The Illinois State Employees Association yesterday filed a mandamus action against the Walker administration demanding "full payment of the $26 due state employees." The governor used an amendatory veto to eliminate $50 of a $100 monthly pay hike voted by legislators to be effective Sept. 1, 1974. Arrest in robbery

A robber armed with a shotgun and having a nylon stocking over his head stole $673 in cash and two cartons of cigarettes from the Parkside Food Shop, 3202 Maryville Road, at 9:30 p.m. Wednesday.

Police have charged Robert Tidwell, 27, of 3205 Kilarney Drive, with armed robbery in connection with the incident. Officers said a description of the robber resembled Tidwell's physical description, and so they went to his home to question him.

Police alleged finding a shotgun, cigarettes, a nylon stocking and money in Tidwell's home shortly after the robbery. A young woman clerk at the store told police the robber entered and took a shotgun from under his coat. He said, "This is a holdup. Give me all of your money. I want your change."

The bandit also demanded two cartons of cigarettes and left, saying "Give me five minutes and don't call the police," she said. The man talked with slurred speech, police were told.

More crimes solved in GC

The Granite City Police Department, following a reorganized operational procedure adopted last year, solved 41 per cent more major crime cases during 1974 than it did during 1973, Chief of Police Ronald Veizer reported this week.

At the same time, Veizer's report said, the number of major crimes in eight categories declined in 1974 by 142 cases, from 2,914 crimes reported in 1973 to 2,772 cases in 1974—a drop of 4.8 per cent.

Chief Veizer said the report "reflects the effort put forth by the entire department. It was a job well done."

The report shows that of the total of 2,772 major crimes reported in 1974—including murder, rape, robbery, assault, burglary, auto burglary, larceny and auto theft—the Granite City Police Department solved 514 cases which were cleared by arrests.

This compared with 362 cases of a total of 2,914 reported crimes solved during the 1973 year. On this basis, the number of cases cleared in 1974 is an increase of 42 per cent over the cases solved the previous year.

In "other cases" handled by the department during the year, 809 were cleared, compared with 575 cleared the previous year, resulting in a 40 per cent increase in the solution of other cases.

The 514 major crime cases cleared by arrests in 1974 and the 809 other cases cleared, made up the total of 1,323 crimes solved during the past year, as compared with 362 major crime and 575 other cases cleared for a total of 937 in 1973. This represents 41 per cent more cases cleared in 1974 than in 1973.

Decreases in the number of major crimes reported during the year were reflected primarily in the number of burglaries and larceny cases. A total of 818 burglaries was reported during 1974, compared to 931 during 1973, and a total of 931 during 1973, and a total of 931 during 1973.

Significant GC Steel expansion planned

"Significant additional steelmaking capacity is planned in the future at Granite City Steel, President Howard M. Love said today.

"National Steel has been able since the 1971 merger to work up to substantially increased levels of steel shipments with existing facilities.

"This has been primarily because of the match between almost new facilities to make steel and hot roll at Granite City Steel, then being used only to the extent of one-third of potential capacity and the expanded finishing facilities at the Midwest Steel Division at Portage, Ind., near Chicago."

Love related. He heads both the GC Steel and Midwest Steel divisions of National Steel Corp.

"National is now well into improvements at its steel plants in Granite City, Detroit and Weirton, W. Va., which are adding more than one million tons of primary steelmaking capacity.

"The company's other steel plant, Midwest Steel, does not presently operate any steelmaking or hot rolling facilities but receives its raw product in the form of hot rolled coils from its three sister plants.

"However, the possibility of some steelmaking has been contemplated ever since ground was broken for Midwest in 1959," Love continued.

"The great strength of the world market and its earlier-than-anticipated development have now required National Steel to consider major expansion.

"About 2,000,000 tons of annual steelmaking capacity, in addition to that now being added, will be required for National to maintain its share of the market over the next 10 years.

"Midwest Steel was selected as the site for the expansion required to meet National's basic steel requirements in the later years of this decade primarily because of its strategic location in the midst of the manufacturing complex which makes Chicago-Milwaukee the world's number one market for steel.

"The Granite City Steel Division has been a major supplier of hot rolled coils to Midwest Steel.

"However, Granite City's own market is taking an increasing share of its hot rolled production.

"Following the merger, we have completed significant improvements in raw materials handling and processing facilities and have increased the plant's capacity for producing blast furnace pig iron. This has, in turn, enabled Granite City to produce more steel.

"We have also completed various projects to raise productivity of hot rolled coils and are presently expanding the 80-inch hot strip mill with the construction of a fourth slab heating furnace.

"We expect growth in the market served by Granite City Steel to continue during the 1970s with the ultimate need for significant additional steelmaking capacity at Granite City," Love concluded.

Billion-dollar Midwest mill

Directors of National Steel Corporation yesterday at Pittsburgh authorized construction of a 2.3-million-ton annual primary steel plant at the company's Midwest Steel Division, Portage, Ind., near Gary.

The action came at a regular quarterly directors' meeting and was announced by George A. Stinson, chairman and president.

Estimated total cost of the plant will be about $1 billion.

It is expected to be in production in 1980 and will create about 2,300 permanent jobs. Employment during construction could total as much as 4,000.

Howard M. Love is president of both the Granite City Steel Division and Midwest Steel Division of National Steel Corp.

The new mill will be a complete steel-producing plant, starting from raw material storage and preparation, it will extend through coke-making, iron smelting in a blast furnace, steel production in basic oxygen furnaces and continuous slab casting.

A new hot strip mill will roll all the steel into hot-rolled sheet coils.

These will be finished into steel mill products on the facilities already in operation at the Midwest Steel Division. Midwest never has produced primary steel since it was completed as a finishing plant in 1961.

All necessary supporting facilities will be built. A major

Daylight time due on Sunday

Quad-Citians will lose an hour of sleep Sunday morning as daylight saving time returns to the area two months earlier than usual.

Officially, daylight time will become effective at 2 a.m. Sunday, but the same effect may be achieved by turning the clock ahead one hour when retiring Saturday night.

Daylight saving time has been initiated in past years on the last Sunday of April, but federal legislation extended the period last year when authorities contended daylight time would help conserve energy.

Sunrise Sunday under the new schedule is 7:42 a.m., which means many persons will be going to work or to school in darkness next week.

Overpass contract

A contract for a location study and preparation of design plans for construction of an overpass between downtown Granite and West Granite has been negotiated by Granite City with M. W. Architects & Engineers, St. Louis engineering firm, City Council members were informed Monday night.

The council at the same time received notice from Robert Kronst, district engineer of the Illinois Department of Transportation, that the contract agreement has been approved by the state.

Monroe Brewer, city engineer, told the council that cost of the location study and the eventual preparation of design plans by M. W. is estimated at $200,000 under the fee schedule agreed upon between the city and the engineering firm.

The M. W. engineering firm was one of seven that submitted proposals for handling the overpass engineering work when the project advanced to planning stage last summer. The council's Street and Alley

Crack down on crime—Walker

Gov. Dan Walker on Tuesday announced his support of a proposed legislative commission to study a basic revamping of the state's criminal justice system. He urged a "get tough" policy in aid in curbing crime.

The bill to create a commission to report back to the legislature May 1 will be sponsored by State Rep. L. Michael Getty (D-Dolton), a former assistant state's attorney.

Aspects of the new system would include: —Fixed, determinate sentences to replace current indeterminate sentences such as "one to 20 years"; the classes of crimes would have a set number of years of punishment, and a person convicted would be sentenced to a specific number of years instead of a range of years.

—End subjective evaluation of rehabilitation as a factor in determining release—although rehabilitation programs within the prison system would be maintained on a voluntary basis.

—One-day reduction in sentence for each day of good behavior within the prison. For example, a convict sentenced to 20 years could be released in 10 years if he served every day without a serious infraction of clearly defined prison rules.

A life sentence would be life, that is, no time off for good behavior, and no parole board to reduce the sentence. A variation would permit an appellate court to sentence the convict after a specific number of years (say, 15 or 25 years) has been served.

—Achieve fairness so that persons committing essentially the same crime receive the same sentence.

The philosophy behind Walker's proposed criminal justice revision is two-fold, he said.

1. To re-introduce the concept of punishment for committing a crime rather than "rehabilitation" as a means of getting out of prison early under the indeterminate sentencing structure.

2. To end "the unfair, unjust system of indeterminate sentencing"—two people commit the same kind of crime, but wind up serving significantly different lengths of time, he contended. This change could help relieve tensions within prisons, he commented.

"The injustice of the present system," according to Gov. Walker, "is not limited just to sentencing."

"It extends to parole, where one convict, not necessarily rehabilitated, is released early, while another, perhaps rehabilitated, is refused parole by the parole board."

In his statement announcing the program, Gov. Walker said: "Searing crime rates—not only in Illinois, but throughout the country—should be sending public officials a message."

"That message is a simple one: our criminal justice system is not working. Inside

Delay Broadway relocation work

The relocation of Broadway in Venice—a major highway project that would build a link between the railroad underpass and eventually with FA Route 151—has been halted by an extremely high water table that threatens complete rejection of the contracts for the project, the Press-Record learned today.

Prospects for continuing the job under present conditions are virtually nil, according to Venice Alderman John Ervin, who explained that extensive dewatering processes will be necessary in the vicinity of the underpass structure before the relocated section of Broadway can be built.

Ervin told the Press-Record that the Illinois Department of Transportation has asked the city of Venice to attempt to cancel that portion of its present contract for construction of the relocated roadway extending from a point on Broadway near the Lee Park Recreation Hall to the underpass structure.

The state suggested, Ervin said, that this portion of the contract be cancelled and new bids called under specifications that would include the dewatering project.

There are no provisions for dewatering work in the present contract. Additional cost for dewatering could range as high as $300,000, depending upon the degree of ground saturation in

Melucci named Hagnauer aide

Matthew W. Melucci, Glen Carbon, an executive assistant of the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council, was confirmed by the Madison County Board yesterday as administrative assistant to Board Chairman Nelson Hagnauer of Granite City.

The board set Melucci's salary at $21,000 per year. Melucci will represent Hagnauer at numerous committee meetings and committee assignments.

The County Board approved a request by the County Highway Committee to advertise for bids for the improvement of Arlington Heights Road, including about one-half mile of extension from Arlington Heights to State Road 38. The existing roadway also is to be resurfaced. All the work is to be done with motor fuel tax funds.

A resolution was approved increasing the county's share of the costs of bridges, culverts, grade separations and other specific improvements in townships from the present 50 percent to 75 percent.

Hutton Ford, Inc., Wood River, was approved to supply 22 new squad cars and one station wagon for the Madison County Sheriff's Department for $75,374, plus trade-ins on 17 used patrol cars.

The Hutton bid was the lowest of 11 opened for the new cars.

The board also approved having AM radios installed in each car at a cost of $54 per radio.

T. J. Tysdal Co., St. Louis, the only bidder for overhauling the locks at the County Jail, was awarded a $5,213 contract for the work.

An ordinance revising the method by which the county approves occupancy permits was placed on first reading and is to be considered for final passage at the board's March meeting.

The changes involve only the method in which the various county offices handle the permit applications and do not affect the cost or method by which a person moving into a home or apartment obtains the permit.

The board approved the advertisement for bids for painting the second and third floor corridors, lobbies, ceilings and walls of the county courthouse and for counter uniforms, service revolvers and mobile radio units for the sheriff's department.

Clyde Donham of Brouns was reappointed to a six-year term on the sheriff's department's merit commission.

On the recommendations of the County Zoning Board of Appeals, the County Board approved the issuance of special use permits to Thomas Ruff, owner, and Daniel Grimm, purchaser, to operate a salvage and towing business at 800 Fairway Boulevard in State Park Place to Robert J. Schoeber to operate a miniature golf course at the site of the Lakeview Driving Range on Route 182, both in Nameoki Township.

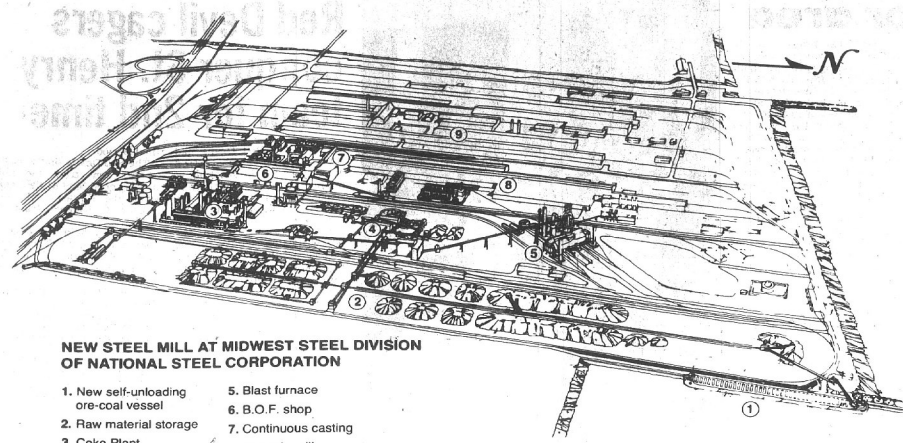

The board was informed that Tri-City Grocery Co., by its attorney Maurice Dailey, had withdrawn requests for rezoning and for special use permits for a residential-commercial-manufacturing-recreational complex in Edwardsville and Collinsville townships.

Square dance lessons

The Tri-City Area YMCA will offer square dance lessons starting Feb. 26.

The class will meet every Wednesday from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m.

Instructor will be Louis Kibort. He has been associated with a number of square dance groups in the past, including the Checker Board Squares.

Kibort has 10 years of calling experience. Purpose of the class is to teach square dancing and provide a recreational activity in mid-afternoons.

Cost will be free to "Y" members and $2 per day for non-members.

For more information, those interested may contact the YMCA at 876-7200 or 2001 Edison Ave.

AUTOMOBILE STOLEN

The white 1970 Volkswagen hatchback auto of Sandra Archer, 1629 Sycamore Ave., was stolen from the 1700 block of Olive Street, it was reported at 1:05 a.m. Wednesday. It was reported the car was left unlocked and the keys were left over the sun visor.

Revise some sewer easements

As the result of objections voiced by several Chouteau Township residents at that township's Board of Auditors meeting Monday night, plans for the proposed Four Township Sewer program are being revised to provide a more convenient location for tap-ons in several areas.

A delegation of one township residents objected to plans to have the sanitary sewer run behind their homes, saying roadway easements would be easier to reach for tap-ons. Chouteau Township Supervisor Walter "Dick" Sparks agreed to meet with the engineer of the project and suggest the revision.

Sparks said he met with Ed Jureau of the Sheppard, Morgan and Schwaab engineering firm the following day and the plans are being revised to meet the residents' requests.

Rights-of-way still will have to be obtained from the residents since the roadway easements will still extend about 10 feet onto private property. Sparks reported easement forms are "coming back pretty good" from the title searches being conducted on the properties through which the sewer is planned to run.

He said he has not received enough of the completed forms yet, but when he does, he will call a public meeting to seek volunteers.

The easement forms contain legal description of the properties and certification of the proper title-holders on each parcel. Volunteers then must contact the property owners to have the easements signed.

Sparks said the public meeting for volunteers will be called to request their cooperation and to explain the procedures necessary for obtaining the easements. He emphasized the township does not plan to pay for easements and that he expects residents to allow the sewer to go through their property, since sewers will increase the property value of each piece of property.

Sparks also said Jureau had been contacted by state officials at Springfield who indicated regulations and "red tape" allow more construction to get underway during this fiscal year.

It was indicated that 75 percent state funding of the project is ready for release, if the township involved can complete the requirements before the end of the fiscal year, which is the end of June.

Sparks also reported he is to meet with Collinsville city officials Monday night, March 3, to discuss the feasibility of using the Collinsville sewage treatment plant for treatment of waste from the State Park area.

JEWELRY IS STOLEN

Several tie tacks and cuff links, including some with diamonds, were stolen from the home of Tom Gillie, 2907 Buxton Ave., it was reported at 1:15 a.m. Tuesday. Glass in the front door was removed to allow the door to be unlocked from the outside. The glass then was replaced. Drawers in the bedroom were ransacked. Gillie estimated the value of the missing jewelry at $300.

Because of the March 3 meeting which Sparks will attend, the Chouteau Town Board voted to change the date of its next meeting to Tuesday, March 4, at 7 p.m., at 825 Thorgate Drive.

Other March meetings will be at 7 p.m. on Mondays, March 17 and 31 at the same location.

Routine bills were paid and it was noted that the township highway department's budget must be submitted and placed on public display by Saturday. The township's town fund, revenue sharing and general assistance budgets are not due until the end of May.

Children may have set fire

Arson is suspected as the cause of a fire which caused an estimated $1,000 damage to the interior of the auto of John W. Hurd Jr., 2226 Edwards St., on the parking lot of Tri-Mor Bowl, 2701 Nameoki Road, at 6:45 p.m. Monday.

Firemen extinguished the blaze and reported finding a plastic bottle on the rear floorboard which smelled as though it had contained kerosene.

Hurd reported he had been involved earlier in a disagreement with some juveniles.

Also Monday, firemen were called to the rear of 1410 Grand Avenue at 10:10 p.m. where a transient was believed to have started a fire to keep warm. The fire was out when firemen arrived. No damage was reported.

At 5:55 a.m. Tuesday, firemen cooled an overheated blower motor in the furnace at the home of Floyd Burris, 2802 Buxton Ave., which caused minor damage.

Spring quarter writing course

A course designed to uncover hidden writing talent will be offered at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville during the spring quarter.

A special section of creative writing will meet one day a week for the convenience of community residents with work schedules and child care problems that would conflict with normal class schedules. Classes will meet on Tuesday from 6 p.m. to 9:30 p.m.

Writers will be encouraged to develop at their own pace and will not be in competition with other students for grades. The class will publish its own creative journal. Students will be expected to prepare creative work in manuscript form and submit it for publication.

$5.3 million road work for area

Five major highway improvement projects in the Quad-City area costing an estimated $5,370,000 are included in a program of 312 specific road widening, repaving and bridge reconstruction projects announced this week by Gov. Dan Walker as part of a statewide accelerated building program.

The governor said the program was developed to reflect a combination of priority needs and unemployment pockets. The plans, however, are subject to approval by the Illinois General Assembly which has been asked by the governor to authorize a $555 million bond program to finance the road projects.

The 312 projects announced by the governor include a total of 11 major projects in Madison County at an estimated cost of $12,180,000, including the five Quad-City improvements.

Madison pedestrian killed

Paul E. Vaughn, 72, of 1731 Third St. Madison, was killed at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday when struck by an auto on McCormick Avenue at Sixth Street, Madison.

Mr. Vaughn was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital where he was pronounced dead on arrival.

Madison police later arrested Robert E. Macke, 18, of 2240 Thirteenth St., on a charge of leaving the scene of an accident.

A witness who heard the car strike Mr. Vaughn obtained a description of the car which was furnished police. Authorities said Clarence Macke, also of the Thirteenth Street address, had reported at 7:10 p.m., 40 minutes after the accident, that his car had been stolen. Police described Clarence Macke as owner of the car.

Police reported that they also had received a call shortly before the accident from Mrs. Polly Vaughn, wife of the victim, asking them to look for her husband who had left home in a depressed condition.

Girl, 15, assaulted

A 15-year-old Mitchell girl, who was visiting her sister and brother-in-law in the 1400 block of Iowa Street, told police she was beaten and assaulted about 4:10 a.m. today.

The girl said there was a knock at the rear door of the home she was visiting and when she answered the door, one young man grabbed her and pulled her into the back yard.

She said she screamed and another young man who was in the back yard said to the first man, "She's the wrong chick."

The second man then fled in the alley toward downtown Granite City. The girls said the first man then beat her face and body until she lost consciousness. When she regained consciousness, she said she heard an auto drive away. Her clothes were torn and disheveled, she said.

Her sister took her to St. Elizabeth Hospital for treatment and she was released.

Crack down

As a former U. S. attorney general said, the fight against crime is a "dismal failure." That belief, rightly or wrongly, is shared by millions.

"It is the people who are afraid not the muggers, not the robbers, not the rapists, not the murderers, not the lawless."

"The people should not fear; the lawless should."

"That means we have to come up with a system that will make the lawless afraid."

"We need swift and sure punishment. And tougher punishment."

He asked the Illinois Law Enforcement Commission to make some recommendations. They have. Those recommendations include a basic overhaul of our system of criminal justice.

"The current system, updated and revised two years ago with the enactment of the Unified Code of Corrections, needs to be re-examined."

"We will not discard it. We will build on that work, completed only two years ago but we need to move quickly."

"These recommendations include some of my own — a 60-day review of the professional statewide probation system, reform of the bail bond law and others."

"I am satisfied these will help and help significantly. We can go ahead on those."

"But I believe we should consider the changes."

"However, we have to recognize that reforms that look good on paper don't always work. One such theory put into effect 15 years ago — indeterminate sentences — probably played a key role in the trouble we are having today."

"That system was based on probation, which rehabilitated and let out a large number of prisoners. The plan fails there is no satisfactory way to judge rehabilitation and that many rehabilitated are not being rehabilitated."

"One new plan calls for tough determinate sentences. You commit a crime, you are convicted, you go to jail for a definite term — five years, ten years. Not one to let, not one to twenty."

"Under this proposal, life will mean just that — no parole for the most serious offenses. You commit a crime, you are convicted, you go to jail for a definite term — five years, ten years. Not one to let, not one to twenty."

"I say, in effect, that many rehabilitation programs really don't work. Under this proposal, you give a man one day of freedom for each day of good behavior in prison."

"But I don't want us jumping from the frying pan into the fire. Just to find out if it works."

"Rep. Getty will introduce legislation to create a legislative committee to study these dozen or so proposals dealing with fixed, mandatory sentences and to make its recommendations by May 1 whether to go ahead. I support this move."

"We should hear from the men on the firing line, the police, the state's attorneys, the judges, the people."

"This proposed system may work, may not. But we should study it, and if it looks good, then we'll go ahead."

Proposals were drawn up at Gov. Walker's request after studies were conducted by David Fogel, executive director of the Illinois Law Enforcement Commission and the commission staff.

ILEC concluded that high recidivism rates returned to a 100% of those who have been released, widely varying lengths of sentences, and increasing crime rates have indicated that the existing system does not work well and that basic changes should be made.

Allyn Siefel, director of Corrections, and Gene Eldenberg, chairman of ILEC, also will be involved in evaluation of the proposals.

Some of the problems cited under the existing system and a general description of the proposed solutions follow:

The indeterminate sentence — a sentence with a minimum and a maximum time — results in dangerous criminals being set free, ignores the concept of specific punishment for each offense and leaves prisoners unsure how much longer they have to serve, it is contended. Parole affords no real safeguards to the public. Standards for release of prisoners, results in wide variations of time served for identical offenses, has tended to discriminate against blacks, and imposes heavy and contradictory duties on parole officers, the governor believes.

Recidivism under the existing system is called unacceptably high — more than 33 per cent.

The present indeterminate sentencing combined with the rehabilitation-parole system results in actual release of prisoners that bear little resemblance to the sentence schedule set by the General Assembly, it is asserted.

The proposed system would address these problems with fixed sentences, elimination of parole, a non-discriminatory method of sentence reduction (one day reduction for each day of good time), and elimination of the link between supposed rehabilitation and release.

Sentence reform would retain judicial discretion so that a judge could impose a harsher sentence — but still a fixed number of years — for a particularly dangerous offender.

And he could order a less severe sentence — but still a fixed number of years — when mitigating circumstances exist.

To ensure that "stern punishment is evenly applied," sentences could be appealed to a new branch of the appellate court.

One of the issues the commission would consider is whether the appellate court should have power to increase and decrease length of sentences to achieve uniformity in sentencing.

The court would also serve as a source of information and insight on further reforms, "which could be forwarded to the General Assembly and law enforcement agencies."

If the General Assembly believes it wise, the court could also review life sentences after a fixed term has been served, to determine whether a different sentence should be set, the governor said.

Counseling, education, vocational training, psychological therapy and other rehabilitation services would continue inside each prison, but on a voluntary basis. The proposal includes "payment" for these services with "credit vouchers" earned for good time served.

The voluntary aspect combined with payment would make rehabilitation "a service for those who sincerely want to be rehabilitated," Gov. Walker concluded.

Red Devil cagers conquer St. Henry team for 2nd time

The Venice Red Devils had the usual slow-starting opening period in shooting at home Tuesday, but then roared ahead to down the Eagles of Belleville's St. Henry Prep 73-44.

The hosts picked up the basket-making tempo in the second and third quarters to a remarkable degree over the highly-regarded St. Henry quintet.

The contest marked the second meeting of the two schools during the 1974-75 season. Both clashes resulted in the Eagles losing; they scored only 44 points each time against the Red Devils.

Venice led 10-7, 24-17 and 56-30 at the quarters Tuesday and outscored St. Henry 17-14 in the final period.

The Red Devils shot a sizzling 57 per cent from the field, making good 36 of 63 field goals while the Eagles could only muster 21 baskets from the field.

St. Henry held the edge on charity tosses, 2-1. There were nine fouls against Venice and seven called against St. Henry.

Eagles Stan Elfrink and Ron Kirsch each scored 11 points to lead St. Henry's effort.

Four Red Devils put double-digit points on the scoreboard. Jeff Corrie and James Turner each had 18, Reggie Gardner 16 and Mike Henry 12.

Mike Logan scored four, Algie Crawford three and James Crowder two points.

News notes

Six food chains in the All-American River area locked out members of two retail clerk locals Tuesday after the two groups began picketing four other chain stores Monday in a dispute over a new contract proposal.

Records show $66,223 contributed in October and November to the Madison County Democratic Fund.

The state public aid caseload is at an all-time high of 21,361 and growing rapidly, figures showed Tuesday.

No new developments were reported this week by Madison County authorities in the Feb. 11 case in which Mrs. Donna Bartels, 21, was fatally stabbed and a man, 18, apparently was killed. A sheriff's department spokesman said it will not ask Alton and Wood River to help in the search for the man dragging for the second woman's body due to costs they are encountering and uncertainty about where it could be found.

James Fincher of Madison was transported Wednesday in a private airplane to Chicago where he is to undergo testing and possible treatment which would, he hopes, restore his vision. He was blinded and seriously injured in an auto accident five years ago.

Estimate $20 million saved by Dixon action

The Federal Reserve Board — as the result of a protest filed by State Treasurer Alan J. Dixon — has rescinded a decision that would have cost Illinois taxpayers almost $20 million a year.

Dixon said the FRB ruled in October that — beginning in January 1976 — it would refuse to act as a clearing house for governmental checks.

Purchasing the services of privately owned banks to perform the sorting of governmental checks — coupled with the loss of interest on funds that would have to remain uninvested — had a potential cost of up to $20 million annually, he estimated.

"I applaud the Federal Reserve Board for reversing its decision," Dixon said. "Every taxpayer of Illinois should applaud the decision, too."

The Belleville resident said he received "complete cooperation" from Illinois Comptroller George Lindberg and the entire Illinois Congressional delegation in winning a favorable decision.

In addition to having support within Illinois, Dixon also contacted the National Association of State Auditors, Comptrollers and Treasurers for help.

If the FRB decision had not been rescinded, a total of 30 states would have felt a drain on their treasuries.

The letter Treasurer Dixon received from the Federal Reserve Board announcing its decision related that the Federal Reserve System has rescinded the previously announced system policy "which called for the elimination by Jan. 1, 1976, of separate sorts of warrants for governmental entities by those Federal Reserve offices currently providing this sort."

"Your input on this matter was helpful to the Federal Reserve in its consideration of the issues involved," Harry S. Schultz, senior vice president, Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago, commented.

Road games for 17-4 Cougars

The big question mark for Coach Jim Dudley and his Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville basketball team as they head into the home stretch of the season: will freshman center Dan Donahue be able to play against Western Illinois University tonight and against always-tough Quincy College on Friday?

The 6-10 Donahue suffered a broken nose Saturday night with less than three minutes remaining in the first half as the Cougars appeared well on their way to avenging an earlier loss to the University of Wisconsin-Parkside. On Jan. 11 at Kenosha, Parkside had turned back SIUE, 81-67.

On Saturday (at the Meramec Community College gym in St. Louis County), the Cougars jumped out to a 33-27 halftime lead with Donahue doing what comes naturally to him: rebounding and helping keep control of the boards for SIUE against Parkside's elongated trio: 6-9 Gary Fuchs, 6-8 Bill Sobanski and 6-11 Marshall Hill. Then in a rough melee under the Parkside basket, Cole's big elbow caught Donahue in the nose and down the Cougars' rebounding ace went to the floor. Donahue's 16.9 rebounds (counting his seven in 17 minutes of play against the Rangers) per game is third now in the nation among NCAA division II schools.

His absence from the SIUE lineup all the last half was decisive, and Parkside's rally caught the Cougars, 53-61, on a shot by Cole with three seconds left in the game. The loss leaves the Cougars with a 17-4 record and raised the NIAA powerhouse Rangers to 18-7.

In tonight's 7:30 game against the Western Illinois Leatherjacks at Macomb, SIUE will face a team desperately in need of victory: Jerry Ahart, Western's leading scorer, is back, after being out of the lineup Jan. 29 when Dudley's Dandies captured a nail-biting 71-70 decision.

Western, now 6-13, is sure to be tough following its 63-57 loss to highly ranked Eastern Illinois last week after leading by as much as 11 points midway through the final half.

Quincy, 15-4, is always tough on the Hawks' compact and noisy floor. Some measure of how good the Hawks are is seen in the fact that they turned back Eastern Illinois 86-84 in overtime recently.

SIUE wins over both Western and Quincy would greatly enhance the Cougars' chances for a post-season bid to play in the NCAA's Great Lakes Regional Tournament. It would run their record to 19-4, equaling on the win side last season's 19 victories.

Next Monday night at Chicago, the Cougars will get another big test as they take on Loyola University, an NCAA division I school. On Thursday, Feb. 27, the Cougars will still be on the road as they face Blackburn College at Carlinville.

Then for the season finale, Monday, March 3, it'll be SIUE's arch-rival in basketball, the University of Missouri-St. Louis. The game is tentatively set for a "neutral" court, the Washington University field house.

UMSL and SIUE split a pair last year.

'Y' judo, wrestling courses

The Tri City Area YMCA again will be offering both a judo and wrestling program for the seven-week session beginning the week of Monday, Feb. 21.

Bill Shelton, 2nd degree black belt, will be leading the judo classes. Classes are available for children six years of age and older. Beginning and advanced training are offered.

Self-defense classes utilizing judo will be offered for teenagers and adults. The classes meet on Monday and Wednesday evenings.

Bill Fuchs, 1987 state wrestling champion from Granite City, will be conducting wrestling activities for youngsters from the age of six through high school.

For young children, the emphasis will be on basic skills and coordination. For junior high and high school age individuals, the emphasis will be on conditioning, strength and "mat sense" along with technique.

Classes in wrestling will meet on Tuesday and Thursday evenings.

For more information on either classes, the public can contact the "Y" at 876-7200 or 2001 Edison Ave., a spokesman said.

March 12 deadline for school field requests

Granite City School District, playing fields again this summer will be available to private groups for baseball and soccer programs, B. J. Davis, superintendent of schools, announced this week.

Supt. Davis said requests for specific fields should include schedules of the days and times the fields are needed.

They should be submitted to him in writing by Wednesday, March 12.

Requests may be mailed to the board of Education Office, 20th and Adams Streets, Granite City, he said.

First home setback for Trojans 58-51 win by North High

Madison High School cagers lost a home game for the first time in the 1974-75 season Tuesday when the Steelers of Granite City High School North rallied behind the basket making of Darrell Page to edge Madison, 58-51.

Madison entered the contest with a perfect 9-0 home stand record and was 17-3 overall.

The Trojans trailed the Steelers 11-8 at the end of the first period but checked the contest 23-23 at halftime on two foul shots by Ron Jones.

North held a 38-37 edge after three periods and stepped up its offense for a 20-14 advantage in the fourth quarter.

"Two factors determined the outcome," commented Trojan Coach Larry Graham. "One of our key pointmakers all season just wasn't hitting in the first quarter. And then North's Page scored 11 of his team's 20 points in the final period."

GCIS North shot 48 per cent from the field, making 24 of 50 shots at the basket while Madison emerged from the contest with its lowest field goal marksmanship of the season, hitting 21 of 59 attempts for 33 per cent.

North, now with a 15-10 record, hit 10 of 21 charity tosses, and Madison was nine of 15 from the foul line.

Page made five of six free throws for North and Rudolph Bradley four of seven for Madison.

Madison committed the fewest fouls, 14-16, but was guilty of more turnovers, 13-9.

Both teams played the boards well, North recovering 36 rebounds and Madison 34.

Four Trojans put points on the scoreboard: Bradley 24, Darrell Franklin 18, Ron Jones seven and Leroy Booker two.

Scoring for the Steelers were: Page with 19 points, Mike Waldo 15, Larry Jones nine, Gene Logas eight, Greg Gauen three and Tom Schocker and James Woodworth, two each.

"We won the first game and we let the police win last year, because they threatened to quit if they lost again."

"This year we are going to bring the Mayor's Cup back to the firehouse — where it belongs!"

In the starting lineup for the police are John "Lurch" Apperson, Freddie "The Freeloader" Hoffman, Roy "Pillsbury Dough Boy" Koberna, Don "Fearless Fosdick" Knight and Officer Friendly — Glen "Birdlegs" Wright.

Second-string benchwarmers for the police will be "Dirty Harry" Mitchell, Mike "Zoro" Sparks, David "Moses" Rosenberg, Dennis "Mr. Peepers" Chenault, Craig "Walter" Nonn, Dennis "Denise" Joyce, Kelly "Shifty" Hodges, Michael "Rockie" Henderson and Jim "Stretch" Reader.

In the lineup for the firemen will be "Tricky" Dick Berth, Ray "Roadrunner" Romine III, Don "Pretty Angles" Brown, Mike "The Tank" Nesbit, "Jungle" Jim Reiter, Smitty "Walmer" Schmidtke, Ken "The Frito Bandito" Druhe, Ron "The Snake" Ashby and Bob "The Butcher" Daves.

Other firemen expected to see action include Bob "Ding Dong" Bell, Charles "Doody" Bernaix, Junior "Marcus" Mathis, Jim "The Putter" Dunn, Jim "Flash Gordon" Brawley and Gary "Bo Bo" Clark.

Tickets for the game are available from any policeman or fireman or may be obtained at the door. A $1 donation per person is being requested.

Funds raised by the game will go to the Officer Friendly Athletic Fund, which supports youth sports activities in this area.

REBOUNDED ABILITY was demonstrated here Friday night by the GCIS North basketball Steelers.

Helping haul down a rebound are Steelers Larry Jones (33) and Mike Waldo (41) and nearby is teammate Darrell Page (23). At left is Mike Real (33) of the visiting Quincy Raiders.

Regional basketball tickets

Gilbert Walsley, principal of GCIS North, announced today that regional basketball tickets for North's regional tournament game at 8:30 p.m. March 3 vs. O'Fallon at Collinsville Senior High School, will go on sale every day next week, starting Monday, Feb. 24, from 7:30 a.m. till 3 p.m. in the main GCIS North office.

Price for each ticket is $2 for adults and students.

Since this is the first session of the tournament, the ticket will also entitle a spectator to see GCIS South's game vs. Highland at 7 p.m.

"In the event we win our first game, fans may purchase their tickets the following day for our next game, again at the main office at North," Walsley said.

South, East and North are highly regarded in mat sectional

GCHS SOUTH WRESTLING COACH William "Red" Schmitt, Warrior mat mentor for 25 years, is shown as eight of his athletes qualified in district bouts to advance to this week's sectional meet at South.

District wrestling representatives from 26 Illinois high schools will compete tomorrow and Saturday at Granite City High School South in an attempt to earn berths in the 1975 Illinois High School Association state finals at Champaign on the weekend of Feb. 28-March 1. The matmen earned the right to compete in the GCHS South sectional tournament by capturing either championship or runnerup honors last weekend at four district sites —

Meet to plan county girls' soccer season

The Madison County Girls' Soccer Association will hold its first meeting of the year Tuesday, Feb. 25, at 7 p.m. at St. John's United Church of Christ, 2801 N. Main St. Now starting its third year of competition, the association consists of athletes aged 8-19 with a membership of 690 girls — 450 from Granite City.

Forty teams representing six divisions compete annually in a 20-game schedule.

Teams participate from Collinsville, Wood River, Mitchell, Edwardsville and Granite City.

Franz Feigl, an association representative, relates that girls aged 8-9 are needed to round out the Pee Wee Division, and that managers and coaches are needed for the new season, which is scheduled to begin April 25.

Interested persons may contact him at 451-9468 for additional information.

Jones, Glasper pacing Sanford-Brown offense

Former Granite City player Greg Jones is averaging 18 points a game and is the Sanford-Brown College Indians' leading free throw shooter going into Saturday's contest at Linn Tech.

Madison's Ron Glasper also is playing a key role.

Thus far, he has averaged 15.2 points per game for the 1974-75 season as a member of the Sanford-Brown basketball team.

Goalie Mulach most valuable in tourney

Greg Mulach, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Mulach, 58 Terrace Lane, and a seventh grade student at Coolidge Junior High School, has been named as most valuable player of a 10-team ice hockey tournament held at Tulsa, Okla.

The youth is a goalkeeper with the St. Louis Rainbow Rocket Pee Wee Division ice hockey club for 11-12-year-olds.

Now in his second season with the club, young Mulach allowed only eight opposing team goals while the Rockets put the puck into enemy nets 35 times in five games.

The Rockets captured the fifth annual Tulsa tournament title with a 3-2 sudden-death overtime period victory over Clagary, Canada.

Hope to start Legion baseball for North area

A general meeting to form a new American Legion baseball team comprised of athletes from Granite City High School North will be held Sunday at 2 p.m. at the home of Jim Reiter, 4015 Rode Ave.

Its formation would bring the number of Quad-City squads to three for American Legion competition. Madison-Venice and GCHS South teams already are in existence.

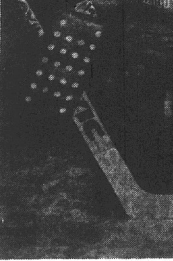

Art Jovi, manager of the North team, requests that any interested boy in the GCHS North school area not more than 19 years of age attend.

The St. Louis team advanced to the championship game by defeating Dallas, Tex., 8-0, Oklahoma City 6-1, Tulsa 9-4 and Arlington, Tex., 9-1.

Mulach and the Rockets will compete in regular season competition Sunday at 7 a.m. against a Canadian team at the Winterland ice rink on St. Charles Rock Road in Missouri.

On Saturday, the victor of tomorrow's Granite City-Edwardsville game will meet the winner of Friday's Alton "B"-Wood River game in a contest at 10 p.m. At 11:15 p.m. Saturday, Alton plays Edwardsville.

The winners of Saturday's two contests will clash on the ice here at 10 p.m. Saturday, March 1, to decide the tournament champion.

GREG MULACH, The ice hockey goalie, a Coolidge Junior High seventh grader, was chosen as the most valuable player in a ten-team tournament in Tulsa as his team won the championship.

Representing the two Granite City high schools (individual records shown) are: 98 pounds Jim Caschetta (S) 22-1, district champion, and Keith Whelan (N) 23-4, district runnerup; 105 — Woody Halbrook (S) 27-0, district champion, and Matt McCullough (N) 27-2, district runnerup.

155 — Brian Wilson (S) 28-1, district champion; 165 — Jerry Patterson (S) 22-7, district champion; and 167 — Kevin Wilson (S) 4-3, district runnerup.

All Warrior wrestlers competing in the sectional are South lettermen — the only returning lettermen from the 1973-74 season.

Nita Graham, nine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Graham, 3136 Myrtle Ave., and Sylvia Nasir, 12, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. T. "Pete" Nasir, 3224 Westchester Drive, earned the right to compete at Champaign after capturing first place last month in a Southwest District Elks contest held at Grigsby Junior High.

Earning top district honors also were: Sandy Grass, eight, Belleville; Larry Gleeson, nine, Belleville; Michael Butts, 10, Belleville; and Duane Beyers, 15, of Ocoee, Ill.

The youngsters will compete Saturday during halftime of a basketball game between Michigan and the University of Illinois.

Jacksonville, Harrisburg, Cahokia and Edwardsville.

South's Warriors, defending sectional champions, captured the Edwardsville meet with 101 points. The Stealers of GCHS North earned second place with 68.

eliminate each other this weekend," speculates South's William Schmitt. "We are paired against each other in five of eight weight classes."

The two regional powerhouses tied for first place in the 1975 Southwestern Conference mat meet. They will oppose each other in the following weight classes in sectional competition — 98, 105, 112, 119 and 155.

Warrior Brian Wilson, at 155, will seek to avenge his conference tournament loss to East's undefeated Bob Baldwin, who has a 26-0 record. Wilson's loss in that meet marked his only defeat of the 1974-75 season in 29 outings.

Steeler mat mentor Walt Whitaker relates he is not thinking of a sectional title as much as qualifying his athletes for state competition.

But Whitaker is not discounting the possibility of a sectional championship for GCHS North.

Rock Island once captured state honors with only two wrestlers, and Rich East won last year's state finals with three.

Whitaker feels that North could claim its first sectional title providing all four North wrestlers emerge undefeated, and providing that the remaining team points are divided nearly equally among the other participating schools.

The representatives of four districts which will compete are from: Edwardsville district — Alton, Collinsville, Edwardsville, GCHS North, GCHS South and Roxana.

Cahokia district — Belleville, Althoff, Belleville East, Belleville West, Cahokia, East St. Louis Lincoln and East St. Louis Senior High.

Harrisburg district — Carbondale, Centralia, Harrisburg, Herrin, Lawrenceville, Mount Carmel and Murphysboro.

And Jacksonville district — Jacksonville, Lincoln, Ill., Quincy, Springfield, Lanphier, Springfield Southeast and Springfield.

First-round competition at South gymnasium will begin at 7 p.m. tomorrow.

Activity will resume at 1 p.m. Saturday. Championships rounds then begin at 7 p.m. Saturday at South High.

WEDNESDAY, Feb. 19
Midtown Pharmacy won 15-11, 15-5 and then lost 15-11 in games with Peter Construction.

Bill's Auto Body won 15-8, 15-2 and 15-3 over Granite City Rebels A's won 15-5, 15-12 and 20-18 over Sammy's.

Madison Federal assets up

Assets of Madison County Federal Savings and Loan Association stood at $21,904,912 at the end of 1974, a 7 per cent increase over a year ago. A. H. Froemling, president, told the annual meeting of shareholders Wednesday.

During the past year, the association paid a record $996,410 in dividends to its savings depositors and added $134,914 to its reserves and undivided profits. Total net worth is now $1,366,140, Froemling said.

At the annual meeting, the following directors were re-elected: Arthur F. Buentje, Robert B. Dunlap, Albert H. Froemling, Kenneth J. Hillmer, Ernest L. Hopkins, John D. Palchiff, William C. Rainford, John W. Reese and Gilbert Rosch.

Officers re-elected in addition to Froemling are: A. F. Buentje, vice-president; G. Rosch, vice-president; N. J. Brider, secretary-treasurer; J. L. Winning, assistant vice-president, and M. C. Harris, assistant secretary.

"We are glad to report that 1974 was a year of progress for Madison County Federal Savings and Loan," Froemling said, "despite the continuation of very serious inflation, a decline in savings deposits and general tight money."

Key factors during 1974 were the unabated inflation, competition from the private money market instruments, high rate government securities and the general uncertainty on the part of the American public.

The year 1975 is probably going to get off to a slow start. However, hopefully as the months go by we will see some concrete improvement in the economy," Froemling said.

"Here again the key to the whole situation is how much of a dent we are going to put in the inflation. Hopefully, if the public is serious in its desire to stop inflation, we may see some good results."

During 1974 Madison County

Federal financed 88 homes and apartments in and around the Quad-Cities area. The association made more than $2,000,000 in mortgage loans.

"The rates we are paying now on our savings accounts and certificates of deposit are the highest on record," Froemling said. "While we saw many Americans seeking higher rate investments during 1974 all the evidence points to the fact that they are coming home to the solid unglamorous — but completely dependable — passbook account. This was evidenced by the fact that during the last quarter of 1974 savings deposits definitely began to improve.

"I predict that 1975 will see a definite improvement."

BRIDGE PROBLEMS. Venice city officials Tuesday inspected a junkyard that has developed beneath McKinley Bridge on the Missouri right-of-way where the McKinley Iron Co. has been using Venice property to dispose of scrap items. From left, Alderman Tyrone Echols, chairman of the McKinley Bridge committee; Mayor William "Mike" Ebersoldt; and Henry McMullen, bridge manager. Raymond Mikolazuk, assistant chief of police in Venice, not pictured, accompanied the officials.

Venice housing code approved by council

By WALTER STRANGE
Press-Record Staff Writer

The Venice City Council adopted a housing code at its regular meeting Tuesday night. The code will become effective April 1.

The ordinance, in addition to establishing minimum housing standards, provides for occupancy permits and inspection of dwellings.

The council has been studying the code for the past two months and held a special four and one-half hour review of the measure on Saturday, Feb. 8, when it was placed on first reading.

Purpose of the new code is to protect the public health, safety, comfort and general welfare of all city residents, according to Mayor William "Mike" Ebersoldt.

The ordinance will be published in booklet form and will be about 25 pages in length. It will be available at the City Hall for public inspection in about three to four weeks.

The Mayor reported that he, Alderman Tyrone Echols, chairman of the McKinley Bridge committee, Henry McMullen, bridge manager, and Raymond Mikolazuk, assistant chief of police, inspected the area under the bridge on the Missouri side Tuesday morning.

"We had a meeting with representatives of the McKinley Iron Co. and they promised to clean up the area. They have been using the area under the bridge and next to it as a junkyard and heavy equipment has hit the bridge structure several times. They seemed willing to cooperate and if they don't we'll just have to take other steps to correct the situation," Mayor Ebersoldt commented.

The city owns 50 feet of land on each side of the center of the roadway on the Missouri side of the river.

The council was informed by the mayor that the Terminal Railroad Association is going to erect a sound barrier on the west side of the switching yards, referred to as a "minihump."

The experimental barrier is expected to reflect the noise away from the residential area.

Several citizens signed petitions and sent them to the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) protesting the noise caused by the contact in switching and breaking of the railroad cars.

"I am glad the people are voicing their opinions and I want to encourage anyone in the city who has a problem, or may have a solution to a problem, to feel free to talk to the council members and myself at anytime. We all were elected to help make Venice a better place to live and by all of us working together we can. I'm going to keep a close watch on this railroad noise problem and if their idea does not work then we'll get after them to try something else," Mayor Ebersoldt said.

Election hearing scheduled today

A hearing is scheduled today at 3 p.m. in Courtroom 9 at the Edwardsville Courthouse concerning objections of Venice Alderman Oscar King to the candidacies of Vernell Jackson and J. Alan Gardner.

King claims the two men do not live in the Fourth Ward, where they both filed as candidates for one aldermanic post.

The Electoral Board consists of Mayor William "Mike" Ebersoldt, Lloyd H. Patterson, city clerk of Venice, and E. Harry Buentje, Venice city council member with the longest tenure.

JUVENILE ARRESTED
A 16-year-old Granite City boy has been turned over to the custody of juvenile authorities at the Madison County Juvenile Detention Home after he allegedly attempted to break into Bob's Bait & Tackle Shop, 2817 E. 23rd St., at 12:05 a.m. Wednesday. A witness reported a youth was attempting to force open the rear door. Police arrived and found a boy hiding in a nearby yard.

Winston Williams found dead

Winston Williams, 50, of 1415a Niedringhaus Ave., Apt. D, was found without signs of life in his apartment Tuesday morning and was pronounced dead at the scene at 9:20 a.m. by Madison County Deputy Coroner Edward Werner.

Mr. Williams had been ill several years. A relative called police at 8:55 a.m. Tuesday and said she was unable to receive an answer at Mr. Williams' door. She obtained a key from another relative and she and police entered the home to find Mr. Williams in bed.

A St. Louis chiropractor, he was born in Dixon, Mo., and resided in this area 25 years.

He was a member of Central Christian Church and also belonged to Masonic Lodge 877.

Survivors include three brothers, Howard Williams of Dixon, Mo., Milton Williams of Wood River and Woodrow Williams of Granite City.

Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

Chief Dutko honored; 25th year as Madison officer

By WALTER STRANGE
Press-Record Staff Writer

Madison Chief of Police Frank Dutko's 25th anniversary as a Madison police officer took place during the weekend and a surprise party and luncheon was given in his honor Tuesday at the Madison firemen's hall by his fellow officers and city officials.

Dutko joined the force in 1950 and became chief in January 1970.

Always interested in helping children, Officer Dutko in the early 1950's played Santa Claus at children's parties given by the police.

When his son Frankie became chief, Chief Dutko became active in the Cub Scout program.

Dutko purchased his first radar equipment in 1960, a device that fit on the left side of a police car, and Officer Dutko led in traffic arrests.

He was promoted to sergeant on Feb. 1, 1965 and that same year a new member of the force

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD
Thurs., Feb. 20, 1975 Page 14

"Sir Kelly," a German shepherd dog, was purchased by the Madison Lions and Madison Rotary Club. Sgt. Dutko became the first canine officer.

For many years "Sir Kelly" and his master made headlines such as "Docile at Home-Vicious at Work," "Madison Police Dog Subdues Man Who Shot Up Tavern" and "Suspect Quits After Looking at Police Dog."

On June 25, 1964, he was promoted to lieutenant and in January 1970 he was appointed Chief of Police.

As a captain and as chief, Dutko has been active with Explorer Post 104 and has assisted in its activities.

In 1972 he was voted "Committeeman of the Year" by the Explorers and again was honored by the Explorers last February for his support of the law enforcement specialty group.

Dutko and his wife Sara have five children, Cindy, 19, Kelly, 18, Robin, 16, Frankie, 15, and Becky, 12.

He and his family are active in the Nativity of the Virgin Mary Eastern Orthodox Church in Madison.

The chief, born and reared in Madison, is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Michael Dutko. He has four brothers, Mike, Kelly, John and Howard Dutko, and two sisters, Mrs. Mary Perdue and Mrs. Ann Podner.

CHIEF DUTKO HONORED. Madison Police Chief Frank Dutko observed his 25th year as a Madison police officer during the weekend. A surprise luncheon and party was given in honor of the event by his fellow officers and city officials.

COUNTRY SHINDIG OPRY performers who will appear Saturday evening, March 2, at Granite City High School South auditorium under sponsorship of the Granite City Jaycees. From left to right—Rich Mehring, 19-year-old drummer; Steve West, 23, banjo player, guitarist and singer from Lead Mine, Mo.; Sarah Farrell, 22, of Maryville, Mo., pianist and vocalist; Thom Gumm, 25, singer-comedian, from Wausaubear, Mo.; Dennis Hilton, Country Shindig Opry owner and master-of-ceremonies; and Sandy DeRousse, 18, vocalist and five-string banjo artist. Tickets costing $1.25 for adults and 75 cents for children under 12 years are available at many local business firms or from Jaycee members.

Country-western show March 2

The Granite City Jaycees will revive their sponsorship of a country-western show, the first in six years, by presenting "Country Shindig Opry Show" in the auditorium at Granite City High School South on Saturday evening, March 2.

Jerry Gann, Jaycee president, said proceeds from the benefit show will be used to further community projects of the young men's service club.

Starting today, tickets costing $1.25 for adults and 75 cents for children under 12 years are available at many local business firms and from individual Jaycees, Gann announced.

"We have talked with Jaycees from other areas of Illinois who have sponsored shows by the Denny Hilton Opry group and all have been most favorably impressed," the Jaycee officer said.

The "Country Shindig Opry Show" was originated by Dennis Hilton in the fall of 1969. Hilton, a musician originally from central Illinois, moved to the Lake of the Ozarks as a teenager with his parents who owned and operated a resort there.

In May 1970, at the age of 19, Hilton erected a new and elaborate auditorium at Osage Beach, Lake of the Ozarks, where the Shindig cast performs nightly during the tourist season. In the winter months the performers travel in their own modern bus equipped with sleeping accommodations for each person and other necessary facilities.

The Country Shindig cast performs for all types of organizations in many states. "Performances mostly are sponsored by civic or service groups as a fund raising project because we present a clean family type show," Hilton explained.

The cast consists of four males and two females. Each entertainer is chosen for his or her specific part in the show, with both music and comedy arranged into a two-hour production, the owner-operator said.

"Our goal is to produce a show for the family with good clean humor and song. Our music goes as far back to the old country-western as one can remember and as new as the latest in modern country sounds," Hilton said.

The Country Shindig entertainer's recently cut their second album at Columbia Studios in Nashville, Tenn.

Their new album, distributed on a History label, includes such widely known country-western hits as "Ramblin' Man," "Behind Closed Doors," "Bad Leroy Brown," "Just One Time," "Catfish John," "You Gotta Me a Mountain," "Let Me Be There" and "That's the Way Love Goes."

Performers who will be seen here in the March 2 show, include: Thom "Galby" Gumm, 25, from Wausaubear, Mo., a comedian and singer; Steve West, 23, of Lead Mine, Mo., lead guitarist, banjo player and singer.

Rich Mehring, 19, drummer; Sarah Farrell, 22, from Maryville, Mo., pianist and vocalist; Sandy DeRousse, 18, youngest member of the cast who plays the five-string banjo and sings; and Hilton, who sings, plays guitar and serves as master-of-ceremonies.

College test is scheduled

The Spring American College Testing Program (ACT) test will be given at Granite City High School South on April 26. Registration began this week and continues through March 31.

The test is required for admittance by most Illinois colleges as well as by many other colleges throughout the country.

The Illinois State Scholarship Commission uses this test, along with high school grades, to designate Illinois state scholars, a spokesman said.

Fee for the test is $7. Application blanks are available in the GCHS South guidance office.

Charge burglary

Raymond G. Holt, 19, of 2216a Grand Ave., was arrested in the 1600 block of State Street at 2:10 a.m. Wednesday and was charged with burglary.

Sunny Hookall, 22, of the 1600 block of Edison Ave., reported he saw a young man enter a car in that block and remove a pair of gloves from the glove compartment. He notified police who arrested Holt.

Phone office moved

The business office of the telephone company will open at 8:30 a.m. Monday in a new location at No. 2 Crossroads Shopping Center, according to Thomas I. Rich, manager for the Quad-Cities office of Illinois Bell Telephone Co.

Rich noted the office hours, 8:30 a.m. until 5 p.m., will remain the same, and the business office phone number (661-0800) will be unchanged. The Illinois Bell Telephone Co. has received a building permit to remodel their building at 2107 Edison Ave. at a cost of $40,000 to install new equipment.

An new electronic switching system which Illinois Bell is installing, requires more room. That is why the business office had to move, Rich noted.

There will be no interruption of normal telephone service during the conversion to the new equipment, according to Rich.

Fine arts degree proposed at SIUE

Granting of a bachelor of fine arts degree at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville was authorized Thursday by the SIUE Board of Trustees, subject to approval by the Illinois Board of Higher Education.

The SIUE board met at Carbondale.

The new four-year degree program will be offered with two options.

The first option is a major in the department of art and design with concentration in a studio area such as painting, sculpture or ceramics.

The second option is an interdisciplinary major in the School of Fine Arts and Communications, with a concentration in two or more of the departments of art and design, speech and theater, music and mass communication.

Trustees were told the prime reasons for adopting the program are need and demand.

Fine arts enrollments in area junior colleges are rising, creating increased demand for a baccalaureate program in an area senior university, SIUE officials said.

A new study by the National Council of Art Administrators shows more undergraduate students enrolled in bachelor of fine arts programs than any other type of art curriculum. In other business, architectural firms in Troy and Decatur were recommended by the SIUE board for work involved in expansion of the heating and refrigeration plant at SIUE and remodeling at the School of Dental Medicine in Alton.

The trustees recommended that Thompson Associates of Troy be employed to plan remodeling work at the dental school and that Hall, Schwartz Associates of Decatur be retained on the heating and refrigeration plant expansion project.

Both projects are under the jurisdiction of the Capital Development Board of the state, but wherever possible the CDB tries to use architects recommended by the university.

Improvements at the heating and refrigeration plant are expected to cost about $1.5 million. Funds for the project were released to the CDB by the governor's office in October.

The remodeling at the dental school is expected to cost $100,000 and involves work to convert the existing student center at Alton to office space.

Plans and specifications for improvements to be made in four buildings at the School of Dental Medicine were approved Thursday by the SIUE board.

Improvements are expected to cost $240,000 and will be paid for by a grant from the National Institutes of Health.

Originally, the university sought improvements for five buildings on the dental campus, but plans for changes in the fifth building were dropped because costs would exceed funds available.

The improvements will include installation of a 10-chair mini-clinic to support the generalist program of the predoctoral dental curriculum, construction of an independent learning center, and creation of additional office and classroom space.

'Budget food service' for foreign, aged

The National Association for Foreign Student Affairs has approved a $6,000 grant to the International Student Council of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville for a budget food service operation.

Judy Thatch, SIUE foreign student adviser, said the funds will assist with the operation of a food service program to permit low-income elderly and students to purchase food at wholesale prices.

Miss Thatch said international students and senior citizens are volunteering together to plan, buy and distribute lower cost food to designated areas. Cooperating with the project are the Madison County Economic Opportunity Council Services and the Community Involvement Program at SIUE.

The first of several warehouses in the county has been established in SIUE property at the Wagner complex in Edwardsville. Outlets are being developed in Alton, Venice, Hartford, Granite City, Collinsville, Wood River, East Alton and other cities, she said.

Miss Thatch said participating senior citizens and students will collect money and buy weekly groceries at one time from wholesalers. She predicted savings of 20 per cent.

The SIUE adviser said the manpower involved will include a coordinator who is a staff member of the Madison County EOC; purchasing representatives from each subdivision; an international student coordinator and an assistant who will work with the senior citizen administrator to enlist the volunteer services of international students; volunteers to help sort, pack, transport, deliver and pick up grocery orders; and volunteers to report the needs of elderly persons and to help educate international students and senior citizens on selection and preparation of food at the best cost.

Miss Thatch said there are 200 foreign students on the campus. She said involvement in the project by the combined groups is expected to reach 350 to 400 in the Edwardsville area alone.

Fireman sells lucky ticket

With a lottery ticket purchased from Venice Fireman David Courtois, Mrs. Mary Redd, St. Louis, won $1,500 last Thursday and became a candidate for the May million-dollar drawing.

Venice firemen have sold tickets to two million-dollar drawings and two $500,000 possible winners. Last week's sales by Venice firemen included 56 persons who were $20 winners.

Proceeds from the sale of tickets by firemen go to their pension fund. All area firemen sell the state lottery tickets.

Rabbi Rubin to speak here

Rabbi Alvan D. Rubin of Temple Israel, St. Louis, will be the guest speaker at a luncheon meeting Tuesday of the Greater St. Louis Christian Women's Fellowship (Disciples of Christ), to be held at Central Christian Church, 2020 Johnson Road.

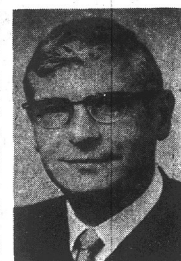

Rabbi Rubin has chosen "Small Land-Big Problems" as his topic, according to Mrs. Marie Gordon, president of the local CWF group. The meeting will begin at 10:30 a.m. and luncheon will be served at noon. Reservations must be made no later than Friday with the church office, 876-0332.

Rabbi Rubin was born and reared in Boston, Mass., and received degrees from Northeastern University, Boston and New York Universities. He was ordained at the Hebrew Union College-Jewish Institute of Religion in 1950.

A veteran of World War II, with 3-years overseas service, the guest speaker returned to serve at Temple Sinai in Roslyn, N.Y., moving to St. Louis in 1967. He took a sabbatical year of study and teaching in Jerusalem in 1965, specializing in archaeological study with Dr. Nelson Glueck and Dr. G. Ernest Wright at Gezer Dig.

Rabbi Rubin is an associate professor at St. Louis

Senior citizens' valentine party

Members of the Madison Senior Citizens' Club and invited guests from Granite City and Venice senior clubs met at the Madison Recreation Center to observe St. Valentine's Day.

The group arrived during the early afternoon hours to participate in various games, and a light lunch was served at five o'clock.

The center was adorned with valentine hearts and red and white crepe paper. Members had decorated the hall during the week.

Each table had a white cloth with a crystal bud vase holding red roses. Each place setting was marked with a valentine cup holding miniature valentine candles.

Mrs. Dorothy Bridick welcomed those attending prior to the pledge to the flag and prayer.

Guests arrived for dancing and refreshments at seven o'clock. Music was furnished by the Wesley Dudley Band and members of the Musicians' Local.

Prizes were awarded during the evening. The birthday song was sang to Mrs. Frank Shifter, and requests for various numbers were responded to by the band.

Home-baked cakes were served with coffee to 115.

Girl Scout Thinking Day

Girl Scouts and Girl Guides throughout the world will join thoughts and prayers in the spirit of scouting on Saturday in observance of "Thinking Day," an annual program, according to officials of the River Bluffs Girl Scout Council.

Girl Scouts in District IV of the River Bluffs Council will attend special programs planned by their individual neighborhood leaders, it was reported.

Neighborhood Five, under the leadership of Mrs. Myra Parrish, sponsored a skating party at the Stardust Rink in Pontoon Beach on Monday.

A total of 400 Brownies, Junior and Senior Girl Scouts attended the event, planned by Mrs. Linda Rozycki, chairman.

Girls taking part came from troops at Nankin, Johnson, St. Elizabeth, Maryville and Mitchell schools. Games for various age levels were played and Senior Girl Scout Troop 85 presented the flag and closed the skating party by singing "Taps."

IMPROVING AT DEPAUL

Mrs. Neil O. Winters, 125 Riviera Drive, is undergoing medical treatment at DePaul Hospital, St. Louis.

Since entering the hospital on Jan. 28, Mrs. Winters has received several blood transfusions. Her condition is improving, a family spokesman said, but she is expected to remain a patient in Room 306 at DePaul an additional two to three weeks.

Mrs. Winters is the former Miss Pat Townsend.

Bubblemasters' dance Saturday

The Bubblemasters Scuba Diving Club of Granite City will sponsor its fifth annual benefit dance and buffet supper on Saturday evening at the Crofton Hall, 1000 Madison Ave., Madison. The club is invited to attend.

Proceeds from the event will help defray the cost of the club's new air compressor. The $6,000 unit is used by the Bubblemasters Underwater Recovery Team (BURT), a group which operates without charge as a community service.

Tickets, costing $7.50 per person, include a smorgasbord-style supper and free beverage and set-up and may be obtained from members of the Bubblemasters and BURT, at the door on Saturday night or by calling D. L. "Whitey" Morrison, club president, at 531-4322.

Morrison said the smorgasbord will be served starting at 8 p.m. Saturday. Music for dancing will be played by Rosenkrantz & Gildersleeve, a St. Louis group, beginning at 9 p.m.

Many prizes will be awarded throughout the evening, including diving gear and accessories, the club officer noted. Between 250 and 300 are expected to attend the dance. Among those present will be representatives of the Midwest Diving Council and affiliated clubs, Morrison said.

Also this weekend, the Bubblemasters are co-sponsoring a two-day diving instructors training and certification seminar with the Lung Ranges Club of St. Louis.

The seminar will be directed by Phil Lamm of Granite City, Midwest Diving Council vice-president of training and certification and a member of the local club.

Divers from Kansas, Iowa, Illinois, Oklahoma, Missouri and Arkansas are wishing to qualify as official instructors with nationally recognized credentials are registered to take part in the course, Lamm said.

More than 30 will attend the instruction seminar at the St. Ann's pool at St. Ann, Mo. To entertain the out-of-state divers, the Bubblemasters have issued invitations to the dance on Saturday, Morrison said.

BURT divers operate closely with state, county and local police departments, civil defense authorities and the state's attorney's office, the officer explained.

As recently as last week BURT divers responded to the Madison County Sheriff's office which requested aid in efforts to recover the bodies of two young women in the Chouteau Island area of the Mississippi River.

All Underwater recovery team members are volunteers and chosen from among the best and most qualified divers, Morrison stressed. Each furnishes his own equipment, frequently costing over $700 per man, and air fills for the diving tanks are provided without charge to the team by the Bubblemasters Club.

BURT is captained by Don Digralano.

Students perform at recital party

A recital by students of St. Cecilia Music Studio, operated by Donald and Oriana Macdonald, was given during the weekend.

Those playing piano solos were Karen Lapinski, Steven Meng, Ann Roberts, Susan Stephen, Karen and Kathy Teitloff, Penny Asher, Christy Bauer, Kathleen DeFuntz, Kathy Wilson, Terry Walker, Shelle Hartzel, Elizabeth Hudson, Ruth Jolly, Sandy Cam and Cindy Cunningham.

Duets were performed by Peggy Dillard, Lisa McKee, Susan, Joan and Ellen Range, Jim Mathis, Charlene Bennington, Ronny Holt and Dawn Luebbert.

Peggy Smolich and Dan Vizer presented organ solos. After the recital the group sang a Valentine song, accompanied by Ellen Range and refreshments were served to the youthful musicians and guests.

McDuff Brothers to sing in Maryville

"The McDuff Brothers" will be featured at special gospel programs at the Maryville (Ill.) Assembly of God Church, beginning at 7:30 tonight and continuing through Sunday, the Rev. George Ankarlo announced.

Known as the "men of gospel melody," the trio will present programs at 7:30 on Friday and Saturday night and at the 10:45 a.m. service on Sunday.

The group will appear at the Tri-City Park Tabernacle, 2501 Clark St., on Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, Feb. 27, 28 and March 1, at 7:30 p.m., and again at 9:45 a.m., 11 a.m. and 7 p.m. on Sunday, March 2, the Rev. J. Albert Calaway, pastor of the Granite City church reported.

Previously, it was announced the trio would perform at the Tri-City Park Church this weekend.

Cooking organic foods explained

Mrs. Charles Kohl presented a program on "Cooking and Eating Naturally" at a meeting of the Gardeners Garden Club, held in the home of Mrs. Abe Shannon.

The speaker reviewed several cookbooks which feature use of natural and organic foods. The club's current study program is organic gardening.

Members answered roll call with facts pertaining to leeks. Mrs. A. A. Malottki said the mini-garden center of the Granite City Public Library this month features a house plants display, with an emphasis on African violets.

Financial results from the sale of dried flower pictures, the club's annual ways and means project, were given by Mrs. William Long and Mrs. C. E. Eads. Mrs. Long said the pictures will be sold throughout the year, with proceeds to be used for the organization's civic projects.

Mardi Gras nets $7,700

The Mardi Gras Planning Committee of the American Cancer Society announced this week that $7,700 was raised this year.

"This amount will give the Madison County unit an excellent start toward achieving its goal this year," Mrs. Ruth Wilderman, executive director for Madison County, said.

The dance committee was pleased with the outcome of this year's benefit ball, and noted that many helped make the event a success.

The committee has set the date for next year's Mardi Gras Ball as Feb. 28, 1976. "Special events such as this continue to play an important part in the American Cancer Society's efforts to raise funds for its programs of public and professional education, service to cancer patients and the never-ending research," Mrs. Wilderman commented.

Kohl and Mrs. Fred Orr of Cloverview Garden Club with the Madison County parks and recreation committee involved developing a rustic entrance to the nature and bicycle trail near Granite City. It was reported.

Mrs. Kohl, president, said the District V spring flower show will take place May 16-18 in the mail at St. Clair Shopping Center.

Mrs. Shannon served a dessert luncheon to those mentioned and to Mesdames John Farrell, Earl Glenn, Mary Kristian, Roy Hornum, Leo Schank and Alex Tarpoft, assisted by her daughter, Mrs. George Lipscomb.

REVIVAL SPEAKERS. The Rev. F. H. Current of Urbana, Ill., left, is hosting a series of nightly revival services at Central Free Methodist Church, 4150 South St., continuing through Sunday. The program opened this week. The Rev. Trygvar Brauteseth, right, a missionary from Transvaal, South Africa, conducted a special missionary to open the revival early this week.

Lovejoy school pupils to use Lincoln center

Fifth grade pupils from Lovejoy School whose classrooms were gutted by fire on Feb. 11 will have temporary quarters at the Venice-Lincoln Technical Center.

Permission to use the adult education center facilities was granted by the Venice School Board at its meeting Monday night.

The fire destroyed the school's gymnasium, built in 1950, and caused structural damage to other sections of the 62-year-old, three-story brick building.

Madison and Venice fire departments responded to the alarm and remained at the scene more than three hours. Probable cause of the blaze was defective wiring, authorities were told.

The two fifth grade classrooms were located directly above the demolished gymnasium. Lovejoy School officials said.

Approval also was given to use the Venice-Lincoln gymnasium for physical education classes and Venice board members granted permission to the Lovejoy High School Band to sponsor a benefit basketball game at the same gymnasium on April 4.

Venice Supt. of Schools Robert N. Vickers noted that at one time Venice students attending the former Lincoln School had temporarily used the Lovejoy gymnasium.

In other action, the Venice board agreed to advertise for bids to replace the Venice High School roof. School officials, who recently inspected the roof, reported its condition is "very bad." Several leaks have been noted in various parts of the building.

Three bus drivers were hired to operate vehicles transporting adult students to Venice-Lincoln Center. Hired were Theola Lattin, Randy Stewart and Al Moutria. Noting that Moutria, a former school transportation employee, is an Edwardsville resident, the board was advised that few applicants had shown interest in the opening.

Supt. Vickers said a $375 grant from the Illinois Arts Council to underwrite the "Young Audiences" concert series had been received. To comply with the grant, the Venice district voted to contribute $75. An additional $75 was donated by the Venice-Madison Fine Arts Council.

The series began Feb. 3 with an appearance by the St. Louis Jazz Quartet. A ragtime ensemble will perform April 4 and pantomime artists on May 6. The resignation of Richard Maher, a Venice custodian for 31 years, was accepted, effective March 21.

The sum of $13,310 in 1973-74 tax money for the educational fund, received last week by the Venice School District, leaves about $97,000 in tax funds still available through June 30, the board was informed. Board members authorized the issuance of $460,000 in tax anticipation warrants last fall and to date have used $75,000 of the total amount.

$885 is stolen

About $885 was stolen from the wallet of Richard Geppert, 1259a Nineteenth St., in a burglary at his home, Geppert reported at 1:40 p.m. Wednesday.

The bedroom door to his apartment was forced open and his wallet and a movie projector were stolen. Police found the wallet a short time later at American Village Shopping Center. The money had been taken.

Truck route okayed

Overriding protests by one alderman who predicted serious traffic problems, the Granite City Council voted Monday night to establish a truck route designed to take heavy truck traffic off downtown streets, particularly Nineteenth Street and Niedringhaus Avenue.

The route established by council action is on Madison Avenue from the point it enters the southern corporate limits to 18th Street, west on 18th to Bentz Street and thence westward on Niedringhaus Avenue to the western corporate limits at Federal Aid Route 151.

The route was specified in an ordinance amending Section 3, Paragraph C, of a 19-year-old truck route ordinance which specified Madison Avenue to Nameoki Road as the route for heavy truck traffic.

A specific truck route that would take heavy truck traffic off of downtown streets has been a topic of considerable discussion by city and civic officials in recent months. Monday night's council action, however, was the first to officially designate the 18th street route.

Alderman Walter Nomm of the Fifth Ward protested use of 18th Street, asserting that the curve around Benton Street and into Niedringhaus Avenue would create "a serious traffic problem."

Nomm proposed instead that the truck route be established over Nineteenth Street. "The only way to go with that route is on Nineteenth Street," Nomm said, suggesting that "we could take the parking meters off one side of the street and eliminate any problem for trucks coming off Madison Avenue."

Nomm said that heavy trucks attempting to make the "curve at the motel off 18th Street will never make it. There'll be traffic backed up all down the street."

Several aldermen challenged Nomm's remark as "defeating the whole purpose" of the 18th Street truck route which they said was intended to remove present truck traffic from Nineteenth Street.

Alderman Steve Basarich who is the other alderman in Nomm's ward, noted that 18th Street was used for heavy truck traffic in previous years and that it presented no problem.

Plans for routing truck traffic over Madison Avenue and 18th Street to avoid the downtown area involve the installation of an electric traffic signal with left turn lights at Madison Avenue and 18th Street.

Design plans for installation of the signal are now being prepared by Harland Bartholomew & Associates, St. Louis planning engineers.

City officials admit that success of the truck route will depend considerably upon the use of electric traffic signals at that point.

On a motion by Ordinance Committee Chairman Roy Poulos for approval of the 18th Street truck route, Nomm and Alderman R. E. Robertson of the Fourth Ward voted "no."

Voting in favor were Aldermen Claude Green, Frank Greenwald, Clyde Boyd, Poulos, Sam Whitmer, William Dallas, Everett Morlen, Emerald Dawes, Basarich, Ronald Coleman and Earl Baker. Alderman Gerald Parmley, who is a patient in the hospital, was absent.

978 larceny (theft) cases were reported last year, down from 1,056 such cases reported the previous year.

One homicide case occurred last year, compared to one in 1973, while five rape cases during 1974 was one less than the six reported in 1973. The number of robbery cases last year declined slightly at a total of 37, down seven from 44 reported the previous year.

The number of assault cases increased slightly to a total of 208 during 1974, up ten from 1973, and auto burglaries totaled 473, up from 420 in 1973. There was a total of 252 auto thefts in 1974, down six from 258 in 1973.

Of the total number of major crimes in all eight categories, police solved the one homicide case, and all five rape cases, compared to only two rape cases solved out of a total of six the previous year.

The number of other cases cleared by arrests included: Robbery, nine solved out of the total of 37; assault, 157 cleared out of 208; burglary, 120 of 181; auto burglary, 27 of 473; larceny, 166 of 978, and auto theft, 28 of 252.

The report shows that the Granite City department made a total of 2,247 traffic arrests during 1974, up 36 per cent over the 1,666 traffic arrests in 1973, and a total of 1,293 other arrests, up 45 per cent over the 899 arrests other than traffic made in 1973.

These made a total of 3,540 arrests of all types, up 39 per cent over the total of 2,544 arrests in 1973. The department filed 666 additional charges in these cases, up 54 per cent over the 431 additional charges filed in 1973, for a total of 4,206 charges of all kinds filed in 1974, an increase of 41 per cent over the total of 2,965 charges filed in 1973.

Chief Veizer reported there was a total of five traffic fatalities in Granite City during 1974, down one from six in 1973, and 459 personal injury accidents in which 579 persons were injured, compared to 406 injury accidents in which 581 persons were hurt in 1973.

There were 1,373 property damage accidents in the city last year, down from 1,420 such accidents in 1973, for a total of 1,837 accidents of all types in 1974, compared to 1,842 accidents in 1973.

the pistol to the owner's head and demanded the money from the register.

He was given the money and the two left through the side door. A car door was heard being closed outside the tavern. The man with the gun was described as about 6 feet tall, weighing about 175 pounds, having a mustache and reddish hair, with a receding hairline, and wearing a yellow shirt, dark trousers and a black jacket.

The second robber was described as about 5 feet 10 inches tall, weighing about 140 pounds and wearing a brown corduroy jacket and dark trousers.

Overpass

Committee conducted interviews with representatives of the city, state and federal agencies and eventually reduced the field to three proposals.

In action several months ago, final selection of an engineer for the project was left up to the Street and Alley Committee by council action that also authorized Mayor Paul Schuler to sign a contract. An agreement was reached with the M. W. firm in late January and submitted to the state DOT for approval.

The agreement provides that the engineering firm shall prepare a study of possible locations and a comparative analysis of more than three alternate sites for the grade separation, including cost estimates and the advantages and disadvantages of each location.

This site study will attempt to determine the most feasible location for the overpass with choices expected to lie between Niedringhaus Avenue, Nineteenth Street, 20th Street and 22nd Street. The proposed overpass would span the series of railroad tracks that has presented repeated traffic problems in recent years.

Officials note that an overpass also would facilitate traffic accessibility to Federal Aid Route 151 which now terminates at Niedringhaus Avenue, but which is scheduled for construction through Venice within the next two years.

Present plans call for financing the overpass with Federal Aid to Urban Systems (FAUS) funds, Granite City motor fuel tax funds and monies that may become available from any future state or federal programs.

Granite City has scheduled payment of part of the engineering cost with $40,000 of a $125,000 grant it expects to receive this year under the Community Development Act. Funds also are to be allocated under this program in 1976 and again in 1977.

The council Monday night approved a motion by Alderman Ronald Coleman to solicit proposals for recodifying city ordinances to update the municipal code. Financing of the work will be by federal revenue sharing funds.

A special traffic light fund was created for financing electric traffic signal installations after the council received a $100,000 grant from the Federal Investment Co. operated by Donald Golden of Kansas City, developer of Crossroads Plaza Shopping Center.

The $100,000 matches an equal amount to be paid by Granite City to pay a $20,000 contract with R. Dron Electrical Co. for installation of an electric traffic signal at Nameoki Road and Manley Avenue.

Delay

the underpass area, Venice officials said. The Broadway underpass was completed in the summer of 1971. The relocation of Broadway is a joint state-city project with the state providing 75 per cent of the cost.

"I don't want to spend any more money on the underpass and road relocation as we don't have any excess funds. I feel the road of 1973 is an act of God and the state should be responsible," Mayor William "Mike" Ebersold commented.

Due to the high water table, which has not gone down to any degree since 1973, the contractor cannot move heavy equipment into the underpass area as it gets bogged down.

A meeting will be held soon with representatives of the Illinois Department of Transportation, city officials, engineers and the present contractors to further discuss a solution to the problem.

The original contract of $17,850 was awarded to the Kern Construction Co. and the S. & E. Minority Contractors, Inc. of Alton, Dec. 11, 1973.

"The state wants us to borrow ahead on our motor fuel tax money, but if we do we'd be broke by 1980 and if anything else went wrong in the city we would not have the money to fix it," Ervin noted.

Charged with rape

Rape charges have been filed against Gerald Colin Cox, 28, of 517 Apt. 1D, Tower Lake, by Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville security officers. Charges were filed after the Madison County grand jury returned a true bill. Cox, who is from Marquette Heights, Ill., is accused of committing the rape on Jan. 18. He is being held in the Madison County jail. Bond was set at $15,000.

Women of Moose name Mrs. Homyer

Mrs. Nora Homyer was crowned the 1975 "Queen of Hearts" by Women of the Moose, Chapter 247, at the annual ball held during the week at the Moose Lodge.

Mrs. Homyer was escorted in the ceremony by Jack Thornberry.

Mrs. Ada Crowder, first maid of honor, was escorted by her husband, Charles Crowder, and the second maid, Mrs. Maxine Thebeau, was escorted by her husband, Bob.

Others taking part in the festive program were the retiring queen, Mrs. Mildred Walker and her husband, Stacey Walker; Thomas Goodman, trophy bearer; Rachel Goodman, crown bearer; and Victoria Thebeau and Melody Crowder, pages.

Honors were accorded to Mrs. Margaret Houseman, who has completed her initial work toward membership in the College of Regents, and Mrs. Jean Tallor, who will receive her cap and gown on June 7 at Mooseheart, Ill.

Members of the College of Regents, serving as escorts to the queen, were Edna Miller, Edith Rodgers, Virginia Severs, Bertha Dudley, Dorothy Coy, Marian Lipscomb, Marie Hampton and Iris Chastain.

Larry Lane, Moose Lodge 272 governor, introduced Mrs. Chastain, noting she was the founder of the traditional "Queen of Hearts" ball.

Chapter 247 officers escorted and presented to the assembly by Lane, included Senior Regent Nancy Hamilton; Charlotte Allison, treasurer; Helen Davis, recorder; Leitha Worthen, chaplain; and Ruth Stover, junior regent and ball chairman.

Nominated as candidates for "queen" with Mrs. Homyer were Vernice Weckman, Doreen Basan and Eileen Paist.

Nu Zeta discusses status of ERA bill

The current status of the Equal Rights Amendment (ERA), which requires ratification by four more states to become law, was discussed by Mrs. Judy Haven at a meeting Tuesday evening of Nu Zeta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi.

Mrs. Linda McKeehan, vice-president, was in charge of the business session and program. The group met in the Haven home, 1515 Lindell Blvd.

The sorority's Founders' Day activities, planned for April 30, were reviewed. Other future programs were outlined and chapter members agreed to meet March 4 in the home of Mrs. Cookie Naeve.

Those attending were Miss Emily Farnbach, Mrs. Donna Melvory, Mrs. Carolyn Lee, Mrs. Shari Smith, Mrs. Carla Ashmore, Mrs. Cathy Farnbach and Mrs. Martha Delevski.

Royal Arch Masons install

The 1975 officer corps of Granite City Chapter 221, Royal Arch Masons, was installed in an impressive ceremony at the Masonic Temple, 20th Street and Cleveland Boulevard.

Leading the chapter this year is M. Mike Petrosian, excellent high priest, who succeeds Robert G. Jones in the office. The latter was presented a past officer's jewel by Walter I. Bergfield, acting secretary.

As part of the installation program, members of the East St. Louis Commandery 81, Knights Templar, escorted the elected and appointed officers into the hall and formed an "arch of steel" with crossed swords to honor the new high priest.

Also participating in the rituals were members of Bethel 43, International Order of Job's Daughters, who formed a "living cross" and sang "Nearer My God to Thee," and James Stuart Chapter, Order of DeMolay, whose representatives gave the 9 o'clock interpellation.

Installed with Petrosian were: V. Robert Matosian, king; Leo B. Lipe, scribe; William J. Mehl, treasurer; Amos H. Rode, chaplain; Clifford E. Hickey, captain of the host; Earl P. French, principal sojourner; Russell J. Stagg, Royal Arch Captain; Billy H. Prewett, Billie Joe Sosaabagh and Charles E.

Hileman Jr., masters of the third, second and first veils, respectively; George A. Malottki, steward; Howard L. Prewett, organist; and Alvie C. Sternberg, sentinel.

Members of the installing team of officers, included Ralph B. Hornbuckle, installing officer; Luther H. Smith, marshal; Bill Simpson, secretary; and Walter I. Bergfield, chaplain.

Official guests and other distinguished visitors were introduced. The evening concluded with a reception, honoring the new officer corps, and a social hour with refreshments served in the Temple dining room.

Fashion show invokes nostalgia

Fashions from the 1920's to the present time were featured in an unusual style show presented last week at the February meeting of the Granite City Steel Women's Association.

Dinner was served in the GCS General Office Building cafeteria. "Fashions Past and Present" was the program theme. Commentators for the show were Geraldine Robinson and Winnette Mason.

Debbie Reese, program chairman, said the styles and outfits displayed, invoked many memories for the viewers.

Serving as models were Ray Werthe, Liz Niepert, Debbie Reese, Betty Roman, Bill Griffith, Jack Paul, Gladys Amisch, Bobbie Sykes, Frank Griffith, John Ervin, Dick West and Helene Bischoff.

Mrs. Peggy Solberger, president, conducted the business session and reported an invitation to attend an AISE meeting in March. A financial report was given by Frieda Ruegen, treasurer.

Prizes were awarded to Florence Riddle, Celeste Dotson, Alice Hodshire, Genelle May and Perma Boyer. Feathered ballpoint pens were presented for the members and guests as favors.

Miss Elizabeth Ann Ledbetter, 2216 Harvard Place, Granite City, will be presented in a graduate oboe recital at 8:15 p.m. in the Communications Building theater at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Miss Ledbetter will play Sonata for Oboe and Harpsichord, by Gordon Jacob; Concerto for Trumpet, Oboe, Strings and Continuo, by Johann Wilhelm Hertel, and Quartet for Oboe, Violin, Viola and Violoncello in F Major by Mozart.

The recital is in partial fulfillment of the requirements for a master of music degree in music education. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Ledbetter of Granite City.

Miss Ledbetter will be assisted by Deborah Bennett, Edwardsville, Harpsichord; Kevin G. Nicol, Granite City, trumpet; Raymond Cheng, Edwardsville, violin; Marcia McElvain, Seattle, Wash., violin; Elizabeth Rowden, Alton, violin; Norman Graham, Edwardsville, viola; and Beverly Field, St. Louis, violoncello.

She is to receive her master degree in June.

House plant care is Pi Eta topic

Various species of house plants and their care was the topic of a program presented by Mrs. Ellen Wilken for Pi Eta members of Beta Sigma Phi at a meeting Monday night.

After Mrs. Wilken's talk, each member potted a small plant for her own home.

The group gathered in the home of Mrs. Kathy Welch, 3113 Hamilton Ave. Mrs. Charlotte Charbonnier reported on the sorority's City Council meeting, and a Founders' Day dinner, set for April 30, was discussed.

Committee reports were given by Mrs. Jana Galardi on future programs, and Mrs. Onesky who described a trip to the Plantation Dinner Theatre. Plans for a "backyard" rush party at 8 p.m. March 10, in the home of Mrs. Charbonnier, were reviewed.

The Aware List

At A&P, we have an Early Warning System against price increases: The Aware List. Every week we voluntarily post a list of price increases (such as those received from manufacturers) a full seven days before we actually change our price. You'll also find "Be Aware" shelf tags on many frequently purchased items with the day of the price increase right on the tag. The Aware List doesn't include perishables like meat, eggs or fresh fruit and vegetables; items whose markets fluctuate daily; items controlled by law; or advertised specials.

Fact-finding mission to aid defense plans—Price

A great deal of useful information that will help the House of Representatives in making crucial decisions on defense issues this year was gathered by a special Armed Services Subcommittee that returned Monday from an 11-day fact-finding visit to the Middle East. Committee Chairman Melvin Price (D-22nd) disclosed Tuesday.

Cong. Price, who chaired the special subcommittee, listed the following subjects which the subcommittee explored closely with the leaders of the Middle East: the support for the U.S.-initiated step-by-step approach to a peace settlement; the relative military balance between Israel and her Arab neighbors; the request for further U.S. military aid by the Israelis; the requirement of oil-rich Middle East countries for the modern military weapons they desire to buy from the United States; and the substantial effort by Arab and other Middle East states to satisfy the legitimate social and economic needs of their citizens.

"Only by an on-the-spot visit of this kind can one appreciate with the greatest responsibility borne by the United States in the Middle East," Chairman Price said. "I am satisfied that leaders on both sides are prepared to give the step-by-step approach to a settlement a chance to work. But both sides depend heavily on the United States to make the negotiations work. Our country has an awesome burden in the search for peace. Congress must do its part, and I am encouraged that this visit will help us to do a better job."

In the course of its trip the subcommittee met with King Faisal of Saudi Arabia; President Anwar Sadat of Egypt; Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin of Israel; Prime Minister Amir Abbas Hoveyda of Iran; the foreign ministers and defense ministers of Iran and Egypt; the defense minister of Israel; Prince Fahad Bin Abd Al-Aziz and Prince Turki Bin Abd Al-Aziz, brothers of King Faisal and important leaders in the Saudi Arabian government; and top military commanders in all four countries. The group also had extensive discussions with the U.S. ambassadors and their staffs in all four countries.

The subcommittee visited the Golan Heights with the Israeli Defense Forces; inspected Russian-made equipment captured in the October War; toured both sides of the southern end of the Suez Canal with Egyptian Army commanders, viewing the new construction underway near Suez City; and visited a steel mill and weapons factory in Iran.

I am proud of the members of the subcommittee in seeking out this exhausting schedule," Price said. "Two examples will show the kind of pace we set for ourselves: We began one day in Israel at 7 with a helicopter flight to the Golan Heights, visited a kibbutz and ended our final briefing of the day at 9:40 that night."

COMPARE FOR YOURSELF!

Mid.) and Patricia Schroeder (D-Colo.), both making their second visit to the Middle East. The subcommittee was told they were the first women ever officially received by King Faisal of Saudi Arabia.

Chairman Price said he found a great deal of interest in the report of an earlier Armed Services subcommittee that visited Egypt and Israel in November 1973, shortly after the war.

"We were told that report contributed to a better understanding of the issues involved. I am hopeful we can make a similar contribution with the report of this subcommittee. The chairman said the report would be filed with the full committee in the near future."

"I think I speak for all members of the subcommittee in saying that I was encouraged by the evidence of improved U.S. relations with the Arab world and with the good will and friendliness expressed toward the people of the United States by the citizens of the countries we visited," Price added.

STOP SMOKING COURSE STARTS SUNDAY NIGHT

A "Five Day Plan to Stop Smoking," sponsored by the Collinsville Seventh-day Adventist Church, will be held Sunday through Thursday in the church fellowship hall, 10 Chapel Drive Collinsville, according to the pastor, W. E. Sharpe.

Sessions will begin at 7:30 each evening and end at 9 p.m. The program consists of group therapy, films and lectures by a minister-physician team.

A $5 registration fee for booklets and other materials is the sole cost, the pastor said.

HOME PURCHASED. This geodesic dome in Wood River has been purchased by St. Louis Refrigerator Car Co., owned by Anheuser-Busch. The 40-acre site will be used as a railroad car maintenance and repair facility. Operations in the 114,000-square-foot building, purchased from Union Tank Car Co., are expected to begin this summer following modernization of the domed structure. Built 16 years ago, it is 120 feet tall and has a diameter of 385 feet. Roy W. Chapman, president of St. Louis Refrigerator Car Co., said the newly-acquired dome "will significantly enhance the company's ability to provide quality maintenance, re-building and wreck repair work to major railroads and other rail car owners with equipment passing through or near the large Missouri-Illinois rail transit center." In addition, he said it would complement the company's existing repair facility on Cherokee Street (near the Mississippi River) in South St. Louis. Along with repairing railroad cars, St. Louis Refrigerator Car operates a fleet of railroad cars to transport beer.

Voucher system for Assumption students

At a time when Catholic education feels sharply the conditions of the economy, Assumption High School has inaugurated a voucher system to assist students and their families.

Bro. Conrad Seibel, director of business, has arranged the system so that students who work in specified projects can obtain tuition credit as a result. A candy drive was launched Tuesday. Previous segments of the program have included Sunday events, turkey promotions, the yearbook and a play program book.

Students who participate in the candy project will have until March 1 to sell Nestle's Crunch bars at 60 cents each. Their salesmanship skills will yield a dollar-for-dollar tuition credit up to a total of $50.

Bro. Conrad estimates that 160 students will "avail themselves of the opportunity to ease the burden of their educational costs."

A percentage of the candy drive sales has been earmarked to benefit the athletic program at Assumption.

Due to the inflationary costs of maintaining both varsity and junior varsity sports, this fund-raising project has been created as a means of balancing the athletic budget.

Participants and contributors in the candy drive will support Catholic education by reducing the individual's tuition obligations as well as by lending assistance to continuation of the athletic program.

3 indicted

A Madison County grand jury has returned indictments against three men in connection with two Quad-City area cases. The grand jury returned true bills charging burglary against James D. Compton Jr., 22, of the 500 block of Mercedia Avenue, Venice, and Joe Compton, 25, of the 1000 block of College St., Venice.

They allegedly entered a Gulf, Mobile & Ohio Railroad car in the Madison rail yards Jan. 24 with intent to commit a theft. Each was released on a $5,000 recognizance bond.

The grand jury also indicted Michael V. Fowler, 17, East St. Louis, on a felony charge of theft. He allegedly stole the auto of Roland McClellan from Douglas and Weaver streets in Venice Jan. 13.

Fowler was released on $3,000 recognizance bond.

University Women hear Mrs. Meyer

Mrs. Jo Meyer of the Illinois Power Co. staff, spoke on energy conservation at the American Association of University Women's meeting at Bethel Temple Pentecostal Church.

Mrs. Elizabeth Edwards, president, presided. Plans were made to send donations to the AAUW Fellowship Fund and the Granite City Scholarship Foundation.

Refreshments were served by Frances and Sara Merkelbach. A Valentine motif was used in the table appointments.

Only 95 SIUE freshmen not from state

A profile of the fall 1974 freshman class at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville shows that 54.3 per cent of those admitted ranked in the top 30 per cent of their high school graduating classes.

The admission office says 1,384 freshman applications for admission to the fall quarter were approved, and 64.6 per cent of those approved actually enrolled as students. 1,201 freshmen were tabulated for the fall quarter.

Of the fall freshmen, 1,186 were residents of Illinois, while 87 registered from out-of-state and eight were foreign students.

The admissions office also reported 777 transfer students were admitted during the fall quarter at sophomore, junior or senior levels. The transfer students included 565 from junior colleges and 212 from senior colleges.

1974 'not easy year' 1st Bank shareholders told

Chairman Paul Lichtenberger of the First Granite City National Bank told the annual shareholders meeting Tuesday that "1974 was not an easy year in the banking business," and that while gross income showed a satisfactory increase, operating expenses went up substantially.

All directors of the bank were re-elected. They are H. R. Fischer, Howard W. Kaseberg, Lichtenberger, Howard M. Lowe, S. E. Pershall, E. Perre, Carl A. Rant, John W. Reese, John S. Rendleman, Nicholas P. Veeder and Melvin C. Wilmseyer.

In reporting on the year's activities and the bank's financial condition, Lichtenberger said the increase in operating expenses was "due primarily to the rise in interest costs, which was the first time in the bank's history exceeded $2 million."

This was more than the bank's total gross income only 10 years ago. Net income for the year was up slightly over 1973. After holding steady for the greater part of the year, our total deposits at year end were lower than the previous year.

"In 1974 we again showed a large increase in total loans to local homeowners, industries and commercial enterprises, thus helping the growth of our area. We believe there is no better way of showing our faith in the future of the Quad-Cities and of staying close to our many local customers and friends."

"During the year Herbert Cameron was promoted to vice-president, real estate loan department, replacing Walter Gavlick, whose untimely death in June was a great loss to our bank. We also expanded our office staff with the addition of Audrey A. Davis, vice-president, commercial loans; Larry C. Gipe, vice-president and trust officer, and Raymond Burton, assistant cashier in the installment loan department. The addition of these men will enable us to give even better service to our growing number of customers."

"With the possible exception of the depression years of the thirties, I cannot recall a time when it has been more difficult to make an economic forecast. Even the most optimistic of our economists agree that we are presently in a recession period. The only difference of opinion seems to be the extent of the downturn and the timing of the recovery. The remnants of the Watergate fiasco, inflation, tight money, interest rates at all time highs, the energy crisis, Congressional criticism of the policies of President Ford, while failing to agree on any acceptable alternatives, have resulted in widespread concern about our future."

"Without attempting to downplay the seriousness of our present problems, I can only say that this nation has endured for almost 200 years through wars and depressions and I have faith in our ability to overcome the present uncertainties and that we will emerge from this trying period, a stronger and better nation."

"Locally our economic picture is much brighter than that of the nation as a whole. While unemployment is somewhat higher, it is substantially under the national average. The announced plans of expansion by American Steel, National Steel and the Tri-City Regional Port Authority, together with the Tri-City Area YMCA will have a special emphasis on adult exercise classes for the upcoming seven-week session starting Feb. 24. Michael Sharp, "Y" program director, announced today.

The YMCA nationwide is sponsoring a major program thrust in the direction of adult physical fitness. "Based on the need evident in this area, the board of directors of the YMCA feels that the gap may be partially filled by offering exercise classes on a broader scale for adults," Sharp related.

Men will have exercise classes three times per week: on Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday from 5:30 to 6:30 in the evenings. The women's class will be to start the men slowly on a basic regimen of calisthenics and other exercise to "rebuild" their bodies.

The class, conducted on a group basis, should make it easier for men to maintain their physical fitness. Sharp believes. He will lead the activity. Women have had the opportunity in the past of attending the Tuesday and Thursday evenings from 7 to 8 o'clock for exercise classes. This will be continued, with General Norman as the instructor.

Purpose of the class is to "help people look and feel better and have a good time doing it." In addition, new exercise classes have been added. These groups will be meeting on Tuesday and Thursday from 10 to 11 a.m. — especially for young girls — and for non-time classes meeting from 12 to 12:30 and from 12:30 to 1 p.m. each Tuesday and Thursday.

Charles Henry Hickman, 79, of 2013 Bryan Ave., a retired maintenance man, died at his home at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday. He had been ill seven years and under the care of a physician. Mr. Hickman was employed 25 years at the former Union Star and Refining Co. prior to retiring in 1965. He was born in Bear Springs, Tenn., and resided in this area 35 years.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Marie Hickman; one son, Howard Hickman, and a daughter, Mrs. Shelby (Reese) Travis, both of Granite City; three grandchildren and two great-grandchildren. Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

Charles Hickman, 79, dies

Mrs. Helen Sims, 63, of 3823 Pontoon Road, died at 8 a.m. Tuesday at the home of her son, Thomas Johnson of Maryville, where she had been visiting. She had been ill three years.

Mrs. Helen Sims, 63, dies

Mrs. Sims was born in Desoto, Mo. and resided here for 60 years. Her husband, Louis Sims, died in 1971. Survivors include a brother, Emmett Courtney of Granite City, and three grandchildren. Funeral services were held today. Details are given in the obituary column.

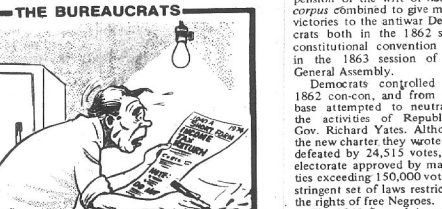

BURGLARY ON MYRTLE
Entry was gained to the home of Genevieve Gray, 3157 Myrtle Ave., by removing a pane of glass from a door and reaching through to unlock the door. It was reported this week. A storm window also was broken. It was not known if anything was stolen.

Dr. Rose returns from convention

Dr. Benjamin T. Rose of Granite City has returned from the 14th annual Heart of America Contact Lens Congress in Kansas City, Midwest optometrists and optometric assistants attended the world's largest contact lens congress, covering basic and advanced techniques using both the conventional and soft contact lenses.

An active member of the Heart of America Contact Lens Society for 10 years, Dr. Rose said "The congress brings together many leading contact lens specialists from the U.S. and other countries." "The latest research studies and current techniques we discuss provide valuable insights for our daily practice," Dr. Rose added.

Kiwanians aid athletic fund

The Granite City Kiwanis club at its business meeting Monday evening in Charlie's Restaurant voted to send a donation to the "Officer Friendly" Athletic fund. The club also approved a donation to a Kiwanis International hearing research program and to purchase glasses for a local school child upon the recommendation of a school nurse.

President Joseph Palovchik reported that the Valentine party last week, at the home of Samuel Stookey, was an enjoyable event. A general discussion on the Kiwanis annual boat races to be held on Horseshoe Lake in July was held.

Next Monday evening the members will attend a District 14 inspirational meeting at the Roundtable Restaurant near Collinsville.

City sticker time extended

Madison residents have until Saturday March 1 to obtain their free city vehicle licenses, according to Albert Hudzik, city comptroller.

The added time is to correspond with the State of Illinois extension of a license plate deadline. After March 1 fees for the city tax stickers will be charged. Residents may take their 1975 state motor vehicle license registration card with them to the comptroller's office, 1529 Third St., Madison, on weekdays between 8:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. and receive the stickers. Hudzik said his office will be open from 9 a.m. until 3 p.m. on March 1 as a service to the residents.

Charged with stabbing wife

Ralph Long, 56, of 2569 Iowa Street, was arrested outside the Long Branch Tavern, 2105 Grand Ave., and was charged with aggravated battery for attacking his wife, Mrs. Wilma Long, 47, of 849a Niedringhaus Ave., inside the tavern at 9:25 p.m. Monday.

Mrs. Long was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital where she was treated. She was stabbed close to one and one-half inch and was released.

ANTI-WAR SENTIMENT IN ILLINOIS, 1861 to 1865

Illinois made major contributions to the Civil War, but Abraham Lincoln and the Northern cause were not universally popular in the state. Antislavery forces were strongest politically in 1862 and early 1863. Union defeats on the battlefield, issuance of the Emancipation Proclamation, and popular resentment of such government actions as the suspension of the writ of habeas corpus combined to give major victories to the antiwar Democrats both in the 1862 state constitutional convention and in the 1863 session of the General Assembly.

Democrats controlled the 1862 con-con and from that time have attempted to neutralize the activities of Republican Gov. Richard Yates. Although the peace movement was defeated by 24,515 votes, the electorate approved by majorities exceeding 150,000 votes a stringent set of laws restricting the rights of free Negroes.

The 1863 General Assembly was controlled by Democrats. President Lincoln and Governor Yates were made 32 in the House. Only the death of a Democratic senator prevented that body from materializing, although converts to an Armistice Convention in Louisville. The General Assembly attempted to turn control of war spending and appointment of officers over to a three-man committee, and listed 15 grievances against President Lincoln and Governor Yates. When the two houses were in temporary and technical conflict over an adjournment date, Yates prorogued the legislature amid howls of protest from the Democrats.

Battlefield desecrations also rose markedly in 1862 and 1863 for much the same reasons which fostered disillusionment at home. When the war ended Illinois counted 13,046 deserters. Some discouragement was understandable. Fatalities for the total war totaled 34,834, including 900 dead at Andersonville and another 621 dead at other Confederate prisons. More than 13 percent of Illinois forces died, primarily from disease.

The state's leading antiwar newspaper was the Chicago Times. Pro-Southern sentiment was strongest in the southern counties, and serious opponents of the war held a meeting in Springfield in 1865 attended by 40,000. Although condemning secession, the peace movement also condemned holding the union together by force. In addition many opposed fighting an "abandon war."

Rumors of Copperhead or organizations and activities received wide attention, and some arrests were made. Alleged conspiracy to release the Confederate prisoners at Camp Douglas in 1864 failed to materialize, although converts to an Armistice Convention in Louisville. The General Assembly attempted to turn control of war spending and appointment of officers over to a three-man committee, and listed 15 grievances against President Lincoln and Governor Yates. When the two houses were in temporary and technical conflict over an adjournment date, Yates prorogued the legislature amid howls of protest from the Democrats.

Waterway tax, instead of being a bonanza to federal government, could further damage the nation's economy

As disclosed by the Press-Record in advance of others in this region, serious concern is developing over a federal administration proposal calling for taxation of inland waterway users. It appears to have major implications for the many vessels using the Mississippi River here.

Goal of the governmental Water Resources Council is to devise ways for the waterways industry to share in the cost of operating and maintaining navigable rivers. A big push for waterway user taxes is to be made, and a WRC study of the issue is being expedited, it was noted last week.

General thoughts had been outlined in a Presidential talk in late November. Mr. Ford mentioned the possibility of a user tax on the barge and towing industry, and also a lockage fee for pleasure craft, such as those using the Granite City and Alton locks. These two approaches plus an airport user tax for non-commercial aviation could yield $100 million annually, Pres. Ford estimated.

The plan was never introduced but now is being moved to the "front burner."

A proposed formula would tax each barge line by the ton-mile according to its share of upkeep on the river reach it uses. Depending on the volume of river traffic, mileage costs per loaded barge might range from 20 cents to more than $20 for a particular section of a waterway.

There would be a $10 toll at each of the numerous locks, for every type of vessel. A pleasure boat cruising from Alton to St. Paul and back, for example, would pay $500 in lockage fees alone.

The cost of upkeep of inland waterways, including channel dredging and the maintenance of locks, dams and riverbanks, obviously is immense.

Whether this cost should be placed on the users to such a degree seems questionable.

To the extent that river shipping became non-competitive with other forms of transportation, it would be curtailed. This hardly would solve the problem of financing river upkeep, and the damage to the nation's economy could be considerable.

In the view of American Waterways Operators Pres. James R. Smith, the proposal is "untimely" and "ill advised" during the present period of recession and unemployment.

"The inflationary impact of such a proposal has been incorrectly analyzed. There is no way that a projected $100 million annual return to the federal government can be equated with the millions upon millions of dollars of economic dislocations that will occur in agricultural and industrial regions should this be enacted."

A first for Mrs. Blackshire in SIU's 106-year history

Congratulations are in order for Mrs. Margaret Blackshire of Madison, third woman member of the Southern Illinois University Board of Trustees, who has become a member of the board's executive committee and also has been elected as board secretary.

Mrs. Ruth G. Cook, Chicago, who served on the SIU board in 1951-53, was elected to the executive committee in October 1951. Mrs. Stella J. Collins, West Frankfort, a trustee from 1953 to 1961, became a member of the executive committee in January 1953. Neither held a specific board office.

With Ivan A. Elliott Jr., a Carmi attorney, re-elected as board chairman and Harris Rowe of Jacksonville named vice-chairman Feb. 13 Mrs. Blackshire was chosen as secretary, the first woman ever elected an officer of SIU during its 106-year history.

The local elementary school teacher is serving on the three-member executive committee with Elliott and William R. Norwood of Elk Grove Village.

Job prospects hampered by government controls; proposed '75 Illinois Assembly actions could further darken the outlook

Statement of Orville V. Bergen, President, Illinois Manufacturers' Association, to Illinois Economic and Fiscal Commission—Feb. 10.

The Illinois Manufacturers' Association welcomes the opportunity to discuss the present and future of our economy. The IMA is comprised of over 5,000 firms and plants, almost all engaged in manufacturing or processing operations. Our membership includes industrial firms of all sizes in all industries and in all parts of the state.

The subject of this hearing is: "The Future of The Economy And Its Implications For State Revenues Through Fiscal Year 1976." We have reason to be interested in the "Preliminary Economic Outlook And Revenue Estimate For FY 1976" prepared by the professional staff of the commission.

With reference to the estimate, IMA collects data from the corporate income tax in FY 1976 will be $315 million, 3.6 per cent higher than the $304 million anticipated this year, we think the estimate is optimistic.

Most fiscal experts are predicting substantial reduction in corporate earnings in calendar 1975, in the range of 20 per cent.

The New Ford Administration budget assumes an 18.4 per cent decline in corporate profits.

Although we have conducted no recent survey on this point, conversations with a number of Illinois industrial managers suggest that sales volume, on the average, is now down substantially, in some cases as much as 15 to 25 per cent, and is going lower. Earnings decline would be on the order of double the percentage of lower volume.

Of course, if there is an upturn in the economy in the last half of 1975, these earnings projections will improve.

As of now, we would be surprised if the corporate income tax collections for FY 1976 are not down at least 10 per cent compared to FY 1975—unless there is an increase in the rate.

Business conditions today are similar to good and most industry managers are pessimistic about an early turnaround.

The complications of the government trying to cope with soaring inflation and serious energy problems at the same time as taking steps to restructure our economy gives our government a great challenge.

Efforts to reduce petroleum consumption in the U.S. will certainly raise prices and hurt car sales. Particularly frightening is the prospect of greater inflation if the government over-reacts to this recession.

Most of our economic problems today can be traced to government actions. The price controls, in particular, distorted supply and created shortages that resulted ultimately in excessive inventory stocking, which played a large part in our present economic problems.

The calls by some Congressional leaders for a reimposition of price controls have caused many industries to raise prices in anticipation of price controls, and to refuse to lower them now even though economic conditions are normally prompt reductions.

Instead, the market is seeing rebates, prepaid discounts, services, or as in the aluminum industry, no price decrease but reduced production. The fact is that our economy in the U.S. is too complex to control.

Certain regulatory actions of government have added to our economic woes.

A number of laws and regulations on environmental protection, occupational safety and health, equal employment opportunity, product liability, and others have added substantially to the difficulties and the costs of manufacturing.

The paperwork accompanying these regulations is enormous. These regulations and requirements have been particularly hard for small firms.

Although all of these government actions were for laudable purposes, they have added to consumer prices and have increasingly substituted government bureaucracy for the marketplace in economic decision-making.

Pollution control efforts have been particularly noteworthy, nationally and in Illinois.

In this regard, IMA recently conducted a survey to try to determine the economic impact of environmental quality efforts.

A total of 319 firms participated in our survey, and we estimate that they represent roughly 15 per cent of the state's manufacturing in terms of dollar expenditures. This survey has disclosed some interesting facts:

1. Of the 319 firms, 293 Illinois firms invested $77.6 million on pollution control equipment, an average of $265,000 per plant. This is for economically non-productive equipment.

2. Companies spent $15.2 million revising production facilities to meet pollution standards.

3. 279 firms spent $7.9 million on administration red tape, permits and legal fees (average $28,000 per company).

4. 279 firms are spending a total of $21 million annually for operation and maintenance of pollution control equipment—an average annual cost of 10 per cent of the investment in the original equipment.

These total costs are reflected in the operating costs being raised by an average of 3.9 per cent and prices by manufacturers being raised by an average of 1.7 per cent.

At least 43 plants, according to survey respondents, have been closed or curtailed operations and eight companies have decided not to expand in Illinois because of environmental rules and enforcement policies.

Many of the stringent pollution control rules are required by federal laws and regulations. One cannot argue with the goal of clean air and water, but many of these rules were too far too fast.

In Illinois we have more regulations that are more strict than the federal government's.

Some of these rules and state enforcement policies have hurt Illinois industry without compensating benefits.

The General Assembly should enact legislation requiring a thorough study of the economic impact of pollution control rules.

Included should be an energy assessment, with particular reference to the unnecessary restriction in many parts of the state against burning Illinois coal, one of our most abundant state resources that contributed greatly to the industrial development of this state.

Other government actions that have been hurtful economically include the federal safety and pollution control rules for automobiles.

The Ford Motor Co. has estimated that the proposed state standards to be attained between now and 1978 will add $847 to the cost of each Pinto automobile.

Spread across the board to all car buyers, this will involve a net cost of $9 billion annually to the public in relation to the automobile benefits. Certainly, these higher car prices will not help the economy.

The Occupational Safety and Health rules published by the Labor Department have required the investment by many industrial companies of a great deal of capital in safety equipment and revised procedures.

Some of these requirements are unreasonable. After two years of OSHA, there has been no substantial decrease in occupational injuries. The costs to individual companies have not only resulted in higher prices, but in some cases manufacturers have been prompted to automate many manufacturing functions.

Such automation leads to more unemployment in the short run.

Considering the state of the economy at this time, and with the unemployment picture so bleak, the Illinois General Assembly at its present session should approach all proposed legislation that will affect employers with great wisdom and restraint.

Now is not the time to be piling heavy new costs on employers, when they are in the form of increased taxes, or increased in employee benefits, or more regulations for business.

Any heavier burdens will impede the ability of the state's economy to recover so as to put people back to work. In times of revenue shortages, there is always a temptation to increase taxes on corporations.

There is legislation presently pending in the General Assembly to amend the present Constitutional 8.5 corporations-to-individual-income-tax ratio, so as to increase state corporate income taxes.

It must be remembered that, although the Illinois corporate tax rate is lower than most states, the entire tax picture must be considered.

This includes the total impact of corporate taxes paid at the state and local level, including real and personal property taxes, such as Chicago's $3 per month head tax, add to the tax load.

Also, in Illinois, sales taxes are paid by the consumer, machinery and equipment.

Such taxes are not applied in 24 states. And in the last analysis, one way or another, people end up paying the taxes and all other costs of corporations, even though indirectly. In the vernacular, "There is no such thing as a free lunch."

One of the disturbing trends in Illinois is the fact that our state is losing manufacturing jobs and faster than the national average.

In 1972, according to the U. S.

Department of Commerce, Census of Manufacturers, there were 1,310,000 employees in manufacturing in Illinois, as compared to 1,397,000 in 1967. This was a drop of 6.3 per cent, which was almost double the national average decrease of 3.5 per cent in manufacturing employees.

In that five-year period, Illinois had a net loss of 195 manufacturing establishments with over 20 employees each.

This decrease occurred despite the existence here of so many natural advantages in 3.5 markets, raw materials, suppliers of all kinds, transportation, and skilled labor.

The 6.2 per cent Illinois decrease in manufacturing employment during the five-year period was more than most other states, including all neighboring states.

Indiana was down 6.5 per cent, Iowa was up 3 per cent, Minnesota was down only 0.1 per cent, Nebraska was up 10.1 per cent, Michigan was down 4.4 per cent, Missouri was down 3.5 per cent, and Ohio was down 4.5 per cent.

Compare the Illinois loss figure of 6.2 per cent with the five-year percentage gains in manufacturing jobs by some southern states: Oklahoma up 20.4 per cent, Virginia up 10.8 per cent, North Carolina up 10.1 per cent, Arkansas up 25.3 per cent, Kentucky up 16.5 per cent, Alabama up 11.2 per cent.

On the other hand, some states have been notorious in their high business taxes and apparent hostility to industry. These conditions are reflected in their loss of manufacturing jobs.

New York was down 12.3 per cent in employees in manufacturing, and lost 1,830 manufacturing establishments with more than 20 employees from 1967 to 1972. Massachusetts suffered a 14 per cent drop in manufacturing employment, and Connecticut had a 15 per cent reduction.

In conclusion, 1975 will not be a good year for Illinois industry, and we think the estimate of revenue from the state corporate income tax on fiscal 1976 is optimistic.

This serious recession, with its particular human problems of great unemployment, may have a side benefit. It should remind everyone of the need for maintaining an economic and government climate in which business can be profitable and grow, so as to provide more jobs for a growing population.

Industry cannot thrive in an environment of more and more taxes and regulations.

Winter Wonderland

Vital data supplied to state police in seconds

By BILL WINTER

Are there any routine police duties?

Not in the opinion of State Police Officer Jon Lybarger, a former Granite City school teacher, who addressed Granite City Rotarians Tuesday on the activities of Illinois state police in general and District 11 (Maryville) in particular.

Although it is a common occurrence for a state trooper to halt to converse with a motorist, any such conversation needs to be conducted in accord with established procedures, and with all reasonable precautions taken, the speaker noted.

An example cited was an auto with a single license plate; both front and rear plates are required for those licensed in Illinois.

"Admittedly, this is a minor offense, but if we're following such a car we radio in our location and the license number," Lybarger related.

"Within three to seven seconds, our headquarters will determine by computer whether it is a 'hot' license—a stolen plate. Illinois and California are among the states equipped to determine this on a nationwide basis."

"In other words, if it has been reported anywhere in the United States, we will know about it immediately and can prepare to question the driver."

"If we have reason to believe the occupants could be dangerous, we usually will wait for an assisting patrol car from the city, county or state."

"As soon as we have the motorist's name, date of birth and operator's license number, we report this by radio and will be told within seven to ten seconds whether he is wanted by any law enforcement unit in the nation."

Currently assigned to the Safety and Education Section of the nine-county state police district, Lybarger and another officer are kept busy speaking and organizing school classes on the work of their department.

Parents sometimes try to persuade young children to behave by pointing out a policeman and warning that they may ask the officer to "look up" the youngster, the speaker noted.

This factor sometimes confuses the public about the role of police, he is convinced, along with assumptions about constant "coffee breaks," and also the displeasure that develops when an individual feels he is being singled out for arrest while others escape detection.

Confusion also stems from television shows in which officers complete complicated criminal investigations "between commercials," Lybarger said. Actual crime solutions usually require long and thorough accumulation of evidence and information, including participation in "stake-outs" to observe possible law violations.

It is the role of the safety and education officers to help explain the actual functions of the state police.

The speaker traced the history of the Illinois department to 1922, when this state was changing rapidly from the horse-drawn buggy era to automotive transportation.

Gov. Len Small promised to "take Illinois out of the mud" and had 1,100 miles of paved roadway constructed in one year, it was recalled.

Eight officers and a chief were hired to prevent overweight trucks from destroying the pavement, and they reported primary mail unit in 1943, when radio communications were established.

Politics became a problem, enabling some to avoid discharge even though they failed to perform efficiently, and causing many capable officers to lose their jobs when a governor of a different party was elected.

Gov. Adlai Stevenson in 1951 created a merit system under which policies is eliminated as a factor in obtaining appointment to the state police, it was related.

Increasingly, the department has been of highly professional officers, the club was told.

In contrast to the former title of "highway police," troopers have full police powers anywhere in Illinois, inside or outside city limits.

Their authority is not limited to highways either geographically or jurisdictionally, although many citizens seem unaware of the fact.

The principal limit on law enforcement efforts is the workload itself. In District 11, the five members of the Detective Section handled 720 cases in 1974, a monthly average of 12 investigations per man.

State police are on call seven days a week, 24 hours a day, and they work most holidays, taking other time off in lieu of the actual holidays.

There are 90 officers to serve the nine counties in the district. With days off, vacations and manning of three shifts, there is often an average of only one and a half officers per county on duty at any given time.

Madison County often has four state troopers assigned because it has two interstate highways, it was related.

Statistics for January 1975 in District 11 show 1,759 arrest tickets, including 889 for speeding; 1,749 written warnings; 31 arrests for overweight trucks; 42 criminal arrests; 76 incident (non-traffic) reports; and 101 instances of assistance to motorists.

Assistance data slips are filled out much like warning tickets to aid state authorities in determining problem areas and in scheduling additional manpower or signs, the officer explained.

Traffic accidents in the nine-county district numbered 4,386 in 1974 and 360 during January 1975.

Accidents in 1974, there were 24,863 arrests of truck drivers and 129,165 speeding tickets against operators of autos.

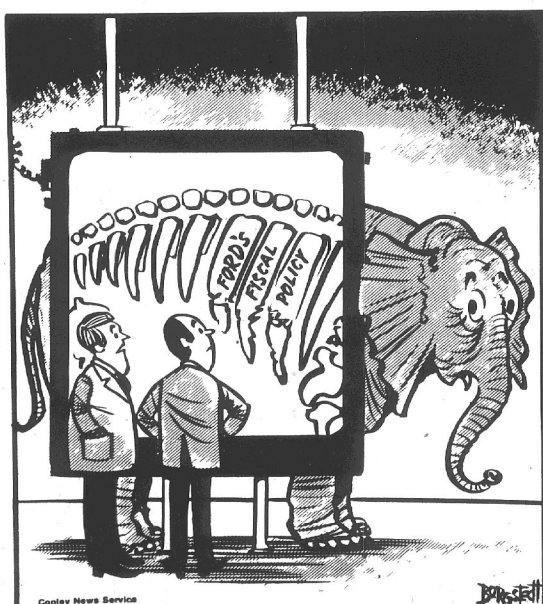

Partly due to the new 55-miles-an-hour speed limit, the Illinois traffic death toll was reduced by 408 in 1974 compared to 1973.

Women will be a part of the next 22-week state police training academy class, and women officers will begin appearing in trooper uniforms this fall, the Rotarians were told.

In response to questions, it was asserted that while buses often exceed the speed limit, there are occasions on which the drivers are arrested and their schedules delayed accordingly.

A final comment was that arrests of motorists for drunken driving continue; those who refuse breath analysis tests after a 90-minute delay are scheduled for court hearings at which they must show cause why their driving privileges should not be curtailed.

Madison High Band concert Sunday

The Madison Senior High School Band will present its second concert of the school year at 3:15 p.m. Sunday in the high school auditorium. Admission to the concert is by season ticket or single admission tickets will be available at the door.

The band will be under the direction of William F. Ledbetter, director of instrumental music in the Madison schools. Featured on the program will be a French horn quartet, consisting of student musicians Cindy Bevil, Christine Gorka, Lisa Bevil and Brenda Gruenfelder. The quartet, accompanied by the band, will play "The Four Horsemen" by David Bennett.

Other numbers will include: "A Festival Prelude" by Alfred Reed; "Introl and Bravura" by Leland Forsblad; "An Austrian Hymn" by Franz Joseph Haydn.

"Vincent Youmans Fantasy" arranged by Paul Yoder; "Slaughter on Tenth Avenue" by Richard Rogers; Theme and Variations on "The Blues" by Zane Van Aken; "King Cotton March" by John Philip Sousa; and "Purdue March" by Howard Akers.

A marriage license has been issued in St. Louis to J. J. Miller, Madison, and F. M. Cullum, St. Louis.

Nameoki Presbyterian programs

"Bible Study for the Amateur," an informal discussion program, is offered from 10 to 11 a.m. every Thursday at the Nameoki United Presbyterian Church, 1700 Pontoon Road, the Rev. Don F. Pierson, pastor, reported.

The Rev. Pierson leads the discussion period, which currently deals with the Book of Hebrews.

At 7 o'clock Sunday evening the "Festival of the Passover" will be presented at the second family fellowship Lenten program. Refreshments and a social hour for community and church families will follow, the minister said.

"Become What You Are" is the sermon topic at the 10:45 a.m. worship service Sunday. To conclude the Lenten season an Easter sunrise service is being planned, followed by a fellowship breakfast and Easter egg roll at the church.

Mitchell PTA fetes principal

Arthur Menendez, principal of Mitchell School, was honored at a special "This Is Your Life" program, planned by PTA members and held at the school last week in conjunction with a "Founders Day" observance.

Mrs. Jean Murphy, PTA program chairman, arranged for 13 members of the honoree's family to attend the surprise event.

To open the program a sister of the guest of honor, Mrs. Mercedes Martinez of St. Louis, recounted highlights of his youth through high school age, illustrating her remarks with several pictures.

A surprise guest was a college friend, Joe Fedora, who attended Southern Illinois University at Carbondale with Menendez. He recalled events of their college days, the honoree's baseball career and displayed a variety of pictures.

A sequence given by his wife, Mrs. Carolyn Menendez, described the time they spent in Germany when her husband was serving with the U.S. Army and playing baseball on the Army team. Their first child was born in Germany, Mrs. Menendez said.

Don Kopp, principal of Nameoki School, reviewed Menendez' career as an educator, which began in 1954 as a teacher in the Pinckneyville school system. The honored guest came to Granite City in 1959 as a physical education teacher at Nameoki School. In 1961 he assumed duties as principal of Lake School and was transferred to Mitchell as principal in 1965.

Alfred Wilson, Emerson School principal, served as master of ceremonies for the evening and revealed several humorous incidents involving Menendez while at Lake School. Two former teachers at Lake School, Mrs. Constance Starks and Mrs. Charlotte Griffith, also spoke briefly.

In conclusion fourth grade students of Mrs. Vera Ullman performed in a skit, entitled "The World's Greatest Principal," and Theodore Brown's sixth grade pupils read personal opinions describing why they believe their principal is indispensable. They also presented the honoree with a trophy.

A talk on "Founders Day" was given by Mrs. Laura Wittkamp, a fourth grade teacher, and students Kim Elliott, Carrie Kopp and Cathy Murphy lighted candles on a cake, which was decorated to symbolize the past, present and future.

After the meeting, the cake was cut and sold, with the proceeds donated to the Illinois Scholarship Fund. Boy Scout Troop 41, led by James Graham, presented the colors.

Tentative plans were made for the annual school picnic at Wilson Park and Mrs. Sharon Brewer announced a bowling league is being formed for the teachers of Mitchell pupils. Those interested are being asked to call 931-5159.

Others, members of the Menendez family who were special guests, included his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Menendez, a brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Menendez Jr., and sisters, Mrs. Rosemary Schwartztrauber and son, Greg, and Mrs. Pura Maus, all of Belleville; and the guest of honor's children, David, John and Art Menendez.

BUSINESSMEN'S GROUP MEETS FRIDAY. ALTON Larry and Jan Weber will be the speakers at a meeting of the Greater Alton Chapter of Full Gospel Business Men's Fellowship, Inc., at 7 o'clock Friday night at the Steelworkers Aed Hall, 2821 E. Broadway, Alton.

The public is invited to attend the meeting, fellowship officers said. They also noted the businessmen's group usually convenes on a Saturday evening.

As a result of business, family and drug-related problems the Webers began their ministry work in 1971 on a non-denominational basis. Since that time they have continued to speak at area churches and civic meeting to give others the benefit of their own experiences, club officers reported.

APRIL BRIDE-TO-BE, Miss Barbara Mothershed, whose engagement to Wesley Self is being announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Luther Mothershed, Highway 162, Granite City.

Self-Mothershed engagement

The engagement and plans for an April wedding of Miss Barbara Mothershed and Wesley Self are being announced by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Luther Mothershed, Highway 162, Granite City.

Parents of the prospective groom are the Rev. and Mrs. Paul Self of Caseyville. Miss Mothershed is a student at Granite City High School North.

Her fiancé was graduated from O'Fallon High School and attended Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. Currently, he is working at Monsanto Chemical Co., as a chemical engineer trainee operator.

The engaged couple is completing plans for an April wedding at the Mount Olive Pentecostal Church, 8505 Cole St., East St. Louis. A reception will follow at the Knights of Columbus Hall in Collinsville.

Antiques, flowers effective together

Antiques should be shown and shared, not hidden away, Mrs. B. J. Isselhardt of Edwardsville told the Friends of the Madison County Historical Museum at its quarterly meeting last week. The guest speaker said an attractive way to display antiques is through the use of flowers.

Mrs. Isselhardt selected a small chest of drawers, a figurine and a lace parasol and fan from the museum's display to demonstrate effective ways of using cut, dried or artificial flowers with such items. She also discussed the proper method of drying flowers and concealing the stems. Different arrangements and the use of feathers for decorative purposes were explained. A buffet luncheon and social hour followed Mrs. Isselhardt's talk.

Cubs entertain at Colonnades
Patients at the Colonnades Nursing Home were entertained with a skit Monday evening, performed by seven Cub Scouts from Den 2 of Cub Pack 7, sponsored by St. Joseph Church.

Boys presenting the playlet were Robert Favier, James Fuhrman, Ronald Don Hook and Brad Voss. Joe DeShon played a piano selection and Tom Buente performed on the trombone.

The boys were accompanied by Mrs. Rosalie Buente, den leader, Louis Favier and Joyce Williams.

The Madison Senior Citizens' Kitchen Band entertained members of Granite City Chapter 1340, American Association Retired Persons, Inc., following a business meeting at Brunswick Tri-Mor Bowl.

Chaplain Ruby Corbitt led the group in reciting the Lord's Prayer and observing a moment of silence in memory of the late Mrs. Clara Riess. The pledge of allegiance was repeated.

Mrs. Vina Law, president, was in charge of the business session and reports were given by Mrs. Grace Range and Mrs. Clara Schilling.

Mrs. Helen Bertacchi, membership chairman, announced 10 new members have joined the chapter. Those interested are required to first join the National AARP before becoming eligible to enroll at the local level.

Program chairman Mrs. Julia Mainor reviewed topics arranged through May and requested suggestions on other programs or films. Plans for the "Senior Fair," scheduled from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. March 26 at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, were announced by Mrs. Edgar Paddock, community service chairman. She said many programs from this area will take part in the all-day event and requested donations of hand-made articles to be sold at the Granite City Senior Citizens Council booth. All proceeds will be used for the local center, she added.

Tentative plans for a rummage and bake sale were discussed by Clyde Myers, finance chairman.

Lowell Law reviewed pending legislation before the Illinois Assembly and Mrs. Vernice Wortman asked for volunteers for the new "generation Alliance" program, a combined effort of youth and senior citizens. Elma Hoover, vice-president, reported the March program will be presented by the Southwestern Illinois Exposition and will feature slides of interesting area locales to visit.

A sing-along for AARP members will be held at 2 p.m. Sunday at the Anchorage Recreation Hall, Mrs. Law advised. She reported Charles Kelly and Mrs. Corbitt accompanied her to a tax relief hearing for senior citizens held at Springfield.

Senior Citizens Month will be observed in May, with a parade and dance planned, it was announced.

Volunteers were signed to serve next week at the Senior Citizen Center and during the social hour Mrs. Caroline Lids and Orville Riess distributed prizes.

Chapter 1340's next board meeting will be held at 7 p.m. Wednesday at the center. The regular meeting is set for 7 p.m. March 12 at Brunswick Tri-Mor Bowl.

Job's Daughters honor Masons

"Masonic Night" was observed by Bethel 43, Order of Job's Daughters, last week at the Masonic Temple. A special presentation was made by Miss Patty Brokaw, Bethel 43 honored queen, Miss Leslie Houser and Miss Lisa Smith as members of affiliated Masonic organizations were introduced to those assembled.

Escorted and introduced in the rituals were Mrs. Charlotte Rapp, Miss Kristie Christich and Miss Kathleen Lane, all past queens; Mrs. Rebecca Slate, Bethel 43 guardian; Dr. Amos Rode, associate guardian and Mrs. Lida Thies, past guardian of Bethel 43 and a past grand guardian of Illinois. Reports were given on the princess luncheon and the librarian's report, "If We All Said a Prayer," was read by Carolyn Ozanich. A session of the Grand Guardian Council, to be held at the Chase Park Plaza Hotel in April, was discussed. Mrs. Thies served as installing officer for two council members. A combined Masonic and Valentine theme was used in the dining room appointments. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Ruth Houser, and Mrs. Ruth Smith to 56 members and guests.

Jolly 60's select royal couple

Selection of a king and queen, presentation of skits and a puppet show highlighted a meeting last week of the Jolly 60's Club at Grace Baptist Church.

Mrs. Neal Pashea was crowned queen and the Rev. Leroy Filby was named king during the meeting.

To open the social gathering members participated in a song fest and viewed a playlet, entitled "How to Spot a Married Couple in one Easy Lesson." Taking part in the comedy were Mrs. Agnes Kern, Gerald Patterson, Mrs. Marge Wuebbles and Lindell Skinner.

An entertaining presentation of the song "Let Me Call You Sweetheart" was presented by Mrs. Dorothy Miller, Gerald Patterson, Mrs. Merle Price, Bill Tuner, Miss Sharon Brinker and Carl Brassfield. "Marriage" was the theme of the puppet show. The Rev. Filby led the group in prayer and Bill Turner conducted a devotional service.

A Valentine motif was used to decorate the hall and tables. A luncheon was served to 68 members.

Board backs 50% state funding for Illinois schools

A $1.666 billion budget for elementary and secondary education in Illinois for the next fiscal year starting July 1 has been approved by the new State Board of Education.

The board accepted the budget recommendation presented by Superintendent of Education Joseph M. Cronin, including $1.23 billion to fully fund the state resource equalizer aid formula.

The State Board of Education budget reflects a strong commitment to full funding and to the state program of assistance to local school districts," Dr. Cronin said.

The board actively supports through this budget request the goal of 50 percent state funding for Illinois schools.

"The budget also includes additional funds for special education, vocational education and bilingual education, along with increased support for local districts' transportation programs," he said.

In addition to the $1.23 billion for the district fund, the budget includes $206,700,000 in grants-in-aid, $186,700,000 for the teacher retirement systems, $19,200,000 for vocational and technical education, $13,200,000 for operation of the Illinois Office of Education, and $6,500,000 for Common School Fund grants.

The total budget is $2,707,300,000 more than the 1976 figure, with $176 million of the increase going for increased state aid to local school districts.

Other increases include a $32,400,000 boost in special education reimbursement and a $4 million increase in bilingual education. Both are increases of about 50 percent.

The budget increase in operating expenses for the Illinois Office of Education — $1,500,000 over last year — is mainly due to services being added in the areas of business management, recognition and supervision, and bilingual education, Dr. Cronin explained.

The office plans to increase business management services to local school districts, particularly to those too small to hire their own business manager.

Recognition and supervision services will be expanded to meet increased requests for evaluation of non-public schools and to provide better communications between public and non-public education on desirable practices and standards, he added.

Arrest young boys

Two boys, ages 14 and 11, face juvenile court action in connection with the burglary and vandalism of the home of Jeanine Kassin, 2200 St. Clair Ave., which was reported this week.

Entry was gained through the basement and the house was ransacked. Holes were knocked in walls and glass was broken in several areas.

Three boys were seen leaving the area and police took one boy into custody soon after the burglary. They said the older boy returned a fishing rod and a tape measure taken from the home.

They then found the younger boy who returned a basketball and a metal detector from the home, they said. The third boy is being sought.

PURSE STOLEN

Kathryn Rochester, 27 Westgate Drive, reported her purse was stolen from the Granite City High School North gym last week. Contents of the purse included a gold watch, contact lenses, a pearl ring and $6 in cash, all with a total value of $191.

Service to public by inmates in 9 Illinois Jaycee chapters

Even though they're captives and have little opportunity to mingle or come in daily contact with citizens of the free society, the inmate-members of Jaycee chapters organized at nine of the Illinois Department of Corrections' adult institutions are committed to the Jaycee creed — "Service to humanity is the best work of life."

The Gail Jaycee chapter at the Pontiac Correctional Center conducted a blood drive, enabling a Chicago widow to pay off a $6,000 medical bill for transfusions given her late husband. A similar drive was held to assist two young girls suffering from rare blood diseases.

Joliet-East Jaycees at the Joliet Correctional Center conducted a canned food drive at Christmas for needy area families. The chapter members also conduct a blood drive regularly for benefit of the prison's employees and their families, as well as for fellow inmates.

The chapter also participates in a program with outside employers and agencies to develop job opportunities for ex-offenders released from all the state's adult institutions.

New Day Jaycees at the Menard Psychiatric Center are participating in a reading project for blind students attending Southern Illinois University at Carbondale.

The project involves recording textbook materials on tape cassettes which are then distributed to blind students to assist them in their studies. The New Dayers also made a cash donation during the past year to the American Cancer Society.

Raisplitter Jaycees at the Vandalia Correctional Center donated material to build a miniature racetrack for a cub scout pack in a nearby town.

Members of the Sharp Memorial Jaycees at the Menard Correctional Center donated bumper pool tables to children's homes in two southern Illinois communities.

Sheridan Jaycees at the Sheridan Correctional Center raised money to assist a family whose home was being repossessed.

Although only newly chartered, the Stateville Jaycees at the Stateville Correctional Center have responded to an appeal from an outside Jaycee chapter (Galesburg) to help raise funds for medical supplies for victims of natural disasters in Guatemala.

Together with their fellow inmates, members of the Vienna Correctional Center's Jaycee chapter have organized a dance band which plays for various activities at a nearby high school.

Although its participants are not necessarily members of the Jaycee chapter at the Vienna center, residents there are much involved with service to humanity by providing emergency ambulance service to citizens of Johnson and Pope Counties.

The service, which corrections officials believe is the only one of its kind in the nation, was organized over two years ago when funeral home operators at Vienna quit the ambulance business because of dwindling profits and enforcement of rigid federal regulations affecting such services.

Insurance losses cause Post Corp. loss in '74

Post Corporation said at Appleton, Wis., Friday that losses in its insurance subsidiary will cause the company as a whole to show a loss for 1974.

While final figures will not be available for a week or 10 days, preliminary figures from All-Star Insurance Corp. indicate that its loss will more than wipe out profits from Post's other operations.

A spokesman said Post's loss before securities transactions will be approximately $400,000.

Securities losses will total another $233,000. All-Star had reported losses throughout 1974, but in the first nine months, Post's total operations had reported profits. The spokesman said All-Star's results reflected current conditions in the property casualty insurance industry.

Post Corp. newspapers include the Press-Record. The firm also has television stations, radio stations, commercial printing and TV and film production subsidiaries.

Bilingual education will be expanded in program offerings and the number of programs in order to serve more children, and evaluation of existing programs will be improved, he said.

Free buses to Bi-State hearing

Free buses will be provided from the Quad-City area Friday to Kiel Auditorium, St. Louis, for an 8 p.m. public hearing on a transit improvement program costing more than $2 million being proposed by the Bi-State Development Agency, operator of the Bi-State Transit System buses.

The proposed program is contingent upon the approval of a grant application by the U. S. Urban Mass Transportation Administration and the public hearing is a requirement of the grant application.

If approved, grant funds and Bi-State moneys will be used to purchase new buses and equipment and to extend several existing routes as well as to add new routes.

A free bus will leave the Granite City Hall at 6:30 p.m. Friday, will stop at the Madison City Hall at 6:45 p.m. and will stop at the Venice City Hall at 7:05 p.m. Free return transportation will be provided after the hearing.

Outlook gloomy, Walker tells General Assembly

Citing figures on increased unemployment and other gloomy economic conditions, Gov. Dan Walker called on the Illinois General Assembly Thursday to join with him in fighting stormy recession prospects.

In his State-of-the-State address, the governor said, "Recession and inflation beset us on one side, while soaring crime rates, environmental problems and energy shortages attack us from other sides."

He said that conditions make it necessary for balancing every proposed spending increase against the plight of the people, since the people pay the taxes.

"They must not be asked to pay more," he said. Unemployment is almost 50 percent higher than it was in December 1973, "an it soon will break a 27-year record both in percentages and absolute numbers," he told the legislators.

The general revenue fund appears in danger of running out of the balance that has been maintained for a number of years, the governor asserted, noting that any nominal balance at the end of the fiscal year June 30 would be wiped out by deficiency appropriations still needed to handle public aid, assistance to elementary and public schools and pay hikes granted state employees.

He urged the General Assembly to approve a $4.1 billion accelerated building program which the governor advanced several weeks ago, to be financed almost completely out of state bond proceeds.

$42,400,000 supplemental appropriation request, most of it to be used to fund the state aid formula for the current fiscal year.

Amvets Auxiliary seeks patriotic essays

"Where in the World But in America" is the theme of an essay contest to be sponsored by Amvets Auxiliary Unit 61 for all sixth grade students in the Quad-Cities.

In announcing the contest Mrs. Agnes Konkovich, American chairman for the auxiliary unit, said the essays will be judged on four basic points — literary construction; originality; patriotic inspiration and neatness.

Rules for the competition are simple, but precise, Mrs. Konkovich said. Essays submitted must be handwritten in ink and between 200 and 250 words in length. Any essay over 250 words will be disqualified, the chairman stressed.

Entries must be mailed before May 15, 1975, to Mrs. Agnes Konkovich, 2802 Dogwood Drive, Granite City, Ill. 62040.

The first place winner will receive a United States Savings Bond, with the runnerup receiving a cash award.

Mrs. Konkovich said the winning essay will be taken to the Amvets Auxiliary's state convention in June and entered in competition with other area winners throughout Illinois.

Prizes will be awarded at the state level and the top entry will advance to national competition at the auxiliary's national convention in August.

Sixth grade pupils from all Quad-City schools are eligible to participate in the contest and are being urged to start preparing their entries, Mrs. Konkovich said. Additional information may be obtained from the contest chairman at 877-1336.

Plans for the essay project initially were previewed by Mrs. Konkovich at the auxiliary's meeting last week at the Amvets Post Home, 5100 Lakeview Drive.

Johnson PTA marks 'Scout Month'

In observance of "Boy Scout Month," several Cub Scouts under the leadership of Mrs. Donna Peterson and Mrs. Beverly Spomenko conducted a ceremony to open and conclude last week's meeting of Johnson School PTA.

An illustrated talk concerning correct procedures and precautions to take in an emergency situation was given by members of the school's Boy Scout unit, aided by an adult advisor, Paul Lingle.

Mrs. Val Novosel, vice-president, was in charge of the meeting. Reports were submitted by Mrs. Helen Schmeisser and the PTA prayer was repeated by Mrs. Paula Mikulka.

A parent-teacher "koffee klatch" will be held at 10 a.m. Thursday in the school cafeteria. Mrs. Novosel reported.

Laura Falter, nominating committee chairman, reviewed a slate of officers to be proposed and voted at the March 10 meeting. It was announced the Granite City Area Council of PTAs awards banquet will be held on Feb. 27 at the South High School cafeteria. Richard Brinkhoff, Mrs. Pam Ames and Mrs. Novosel are representing Johnson School on the awards selection committee.

Plans for the annual awards banquet of the Granite City Area Council of PTAs were announced. The event will take place Thursday, Feb. 27, at South High School cafeteria.

Reservations for the dinner, costing $5.50 per person, can be made by calling Mrs. Katie Wilson, Johnson PTA president, it was reported. Serving on the awards selection committee for the Johnson PTA unit are Richard Brinkhoff, Mrs. Pam Ames and Mrs. Novosel.

Two students attended a performance of "Treasure Island" at the American Theatre, St. Louis, parents at the meeting were advised.

Refreshments were served after the business session by Paula Mikulka, Bernice Skinner, Onita Sipes and Fran Taylor of Team 3.

Chapter 650 names 'Sweethearts'

Mrs. and Mrs. LaVerne (Rachael) Larsen were named "sweethearts" of Granite Chapter 650, Order of the Eastern Star, at its meeting held during the weekend at the Masonic Temple.

Mrs. Betty Ebrecht, worthy matron and Robert Ebrecht, worthy patron, introduced the honored couple. They also presided at the business session and gave progress reports on the pocket and birthday calendar projects.

Final plans were made for a March 9 family-style chicken dinner, to be sponsored by the chapter at the Masonic Temple. Tickets, costing $3 for adults, and $1.50 for children 5 to 12 years old, are available from any member or by calling Mrs. Leigh Maxine at 931-5496.

Mrs. Sue Bausch, president, accompanied by their parents, will be admitted free, Mrs. Ebrecht said.

Associate Matron Dorothy Brokaw served in the office of Ada at the Advanced Night meeting in the Masonic Temple. Also attending from Chapter 650 were Conductress Maxine Compton and Mrs. Maxine, associate conductress.

Several from Granite Chapter were guests of Walton Chapter in Alton, it was reported.

Escorted and introduced at the meeting here were three grand lecturers and 18 grand chapter committee members.

Refreshments were served in the dining room to 65 members and guests. Valentine hearts and decorated candle-holders were used as table centerpieces.

St. Margaret Mary group makes plans

Newly elected officers of the Ladies of St. Margaret Mary Church presided at their first business meeting last week in the school cafeteria.

Mrs. Sue Bausch, president, welcomed the group and the Rev. Edward Groesch gave the opening prayer.

Mrs. Marilyn Aerne, representative to the Church Women United, announced the World Day of Prayer will be held March 1, starting at 9 a.m. Plans to host a birthday party on April 28 for patients at the Colonial Haven Nursing Home were made. Also discussed was a dance in May, using a 1950's theme, with Mrs. Angie Shilt as chairman.

Tentatively set was a mother and daughter dinner and style show in the fall months, featuring fashions created by the members at home.

After the meeting, Ron Kelsh and Ed Kirby from Floral Originals demonstrated making bouquets and other floral arrangements.

Refreshments were served to 27 members.

New 'values' program for GC students

A new program on values clarification for students in junior and senior high schools, introduced by four specially trained teachers through seminars sponsored by the Madison County Alcohol and Drug Council, was reviewed at a meeting Tuesday night of the Granite City Board of Education.

Vasil Eftimoff, director of pupils' personnel services, introduced Jane Fears of South High School, Jon Mullen of Grigsby Junior High and Lois Erickson of Coolidge Junior High, who presently are conducting the open-type discussions with students in the individual schools, in the pilot program. Richard Miller, the other teacher, was not present.

Although training in such programs is arranged by the alcohol and drug council, the concept is directed at students who will evaluate their own lives in relation to religion, social activities, contact with other students, home conditions and other subjects of interest to the young people.

The instructors said students are selected at random or through an evaluation process, or if one volunteers to become part of the program. No student is required to attend sessions if not really interested.

It is believed, according to the teachers report, that the casual discussions will provide a better sense of values for the individual student as they arrive at decisions concerning their own way of life, and not by a set standard or code provided by others.

The newly instituted program will be evaluated at the end of the school year and a final report will be presented to the School Board.

Arthur Menendez, principal of Mitchell School, gave a report on the enrollment projections in the elementary schools for the next five years so that the board may plan any changes in boundaries to alleviate enrollment problems.

According to the projection to 1980-81 by elementary principals, enrollment will continue to decrease from 6,669 students this year to an estimated 6,270 pupils in 1980-81.

Factors which may reverse the enrollment picture, Menendez said, are sewers in townships causing population growth, introduction of new industry in the Granite City area and possible growth in the Pontoon Beach area.

The long term projection report also was prepared by Dale Rea the administration staff; Lee Reid, Frohardt School; Richard Brinkhoff, Johnson School; Gerald Brown, North High School; Kenneth Spalding, South High School; Charles Weiss, Grigsby Junior High School and Ted Vrenick, Wilson School.

Mrs. Kathy Hicks, 21, of 197 Sunny Shores Mobile Home Park, was injured when her auto, stopped for the traffic light at Madison Avenue and Nantaki Road, was struck from behind by the auto of Melvin Hauron, 2865 Marshall Ave., it was reported.

Hauron was charged with following too closely.

Mrs. Hicks was admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital with contusions to her left shoulder and pain to her neck. X-rays were taken.

Expanded Coast Guard mission

The commander of the Second Coast Guard District reports that the annual toll in the number of search and rescue cases during the winter months is not having an appreciable effect on the service's need for new recruits.

"We expect a dramatic increase of activity during late spring when millions of recreational boaters take to the rivers and lakes throughout the district," said Rear Admiral G. H. Patrick Bursley, who commands units spread across 22 Midwestern states. "This influx, coupled with a dramatic increase in Coast Guard missions, is insuring that the service will continue to need raw manpower."

Adm. Bursley, based in St. Louis, said the Coast Guard is now required to respond faster and with more trained manpower in the areas of marine environmental protection, as well as commercial and recreational vessel safety.

These new duties include the investigation and prompt cleanup of oil spills anywhere on U.S. navigable waters.

"The energy crisis doesn't seem to be limiting the amount of petroleum products spilled into our waterways," Adm. Bursley said. "In Missouri the number of spills, accidental or unauthorized, increased 50 per cent in 1974."

"A report we received from the Missouri Department of Natural Resources told of 203 incidents in 1974 involving more than 37,000 gallons of gasoline and 312,000 gallons of fuel oil, diesel oil, asphalt or crude oil.

When you multiply these figures by 22, the number of states we serve in the Second District, you can see we really have our hands full," he added.

He explained that while the new environmental missions continue to add to the Coast Guard's workload, the service continues to carry out its more historic aids to navigation missions.

"This routine work, which sees 22 cutters tending aids on over 6,500 miles of commercially navigable waterway, goes for the most part unnoticed," Adm. Bursley said.

Commander Eugene O'Donnell, Second Coast Guard District personnel officer, emphasized that at present there is some waiting time to join the Coast Guard. He said anyone interested in employment with the service should check on specific career fields with a local recruiting office.

"Persons who do not know the location of a Coast Guard recruiter may find one by calling a toll-free number, 800-424-8883," Cdr. O'Donnell said. "Anyone calling will be put in touch with the nearest recruiters."

Men and women who join the Coast Guard receive $344 basic pay per month plus a substantial food and living allowance, while training. After two years of service, the average married Coast Guardsman is making nearly $650 per month.

After joining the Coast Guard, recruits are sent to a training center at Alameda, Calif., or Cape May, N.J., for 10 weeks of indoctrination.

"Recruits attend classes in Coast Guard history and participate in a vigorous physical education program," Adm. Bursley relates.

"They also study the principles of navigation and learn to handle small boats. When they graduate, we send them to our units around the world where they receive on the job training in many fields."

"Some go to a technical school immediately after graduation from basic training."

The Coast Guard helps maintain over 46,000 aids to navigation, keeps sea lands open and free from ice, inspects merchant marine ships for safety, collects weather and oceanographic data and keeps U.S. ports secure. Primary mission is the "protection of life and property at sea and on the waters of the United States."

Cdr. O'Donnell said persons desiring to serve with the Coast Guard may range in age from 17 to 25. They can have no more than two dependents.

All applicants must be between 5-2 and 6-4 tall, with weight in proportion to height. Vision must be correctable to a least 20/40 in one eye and 20/30 in the other. There must be no more than a 15 decibel hearing loss in either ear in the 500 cps, 1,000 cps and 2,000 cps hearing ranges.

A high school education is not required, but all applicants must pass the Armed Forces Qualification test.

The Coast Guard recruiter for the St. Louis metropolitan area is Senior Chief Storekeeper Robert L. Carnahan, Room 122 at 915 Olive St., St. Louis (314) 425-4667.

WOMAN IS CHARGED
Ruby Williams, 18, of 1408 State St., was charged with deceptive practice after she allegedly attempted to purchase items costing $83 at K-Mart on Nameoki Road at 8:15 p.m. Monday using a stolen credit card. Officers alleged she also had the purse of the Fairview Heights woman from whom it and the credit card was stolen in East St. Louis.

Legislators are still a long way from solving the energy shortage

By LESTER BELL
Press-Record
Washington Bureau
How does it go?
"When in danger, when in doubt, run in circles, scream and shout."
That's it, and it's not over-drawn on Washington's reach for an exit from the energy thick.

Here's how it looks to some with a few random observations from Illinoisans:
President Ford castigates opponents of his tariff on oil imports as "reckless gamblers" and his Congress hard for its 30-day supply restriction of his executive order on the oil tax.
Ford asserts that rationing to cut consumption, the aim of his tariff, is the "poorest answer" yet.

Senate Democrats, meanwhile, draft a ban on higher oil tariffs and also on anything but standby authority for emergency rationing. They look instead to a scaled-up gasoline tax for billions to fund energy conservation and development.

House Speaker Carl Albert's recent televised "alternative" program for House Democrats was so gossamer it has disappeared into thin air.

Business Week magazine editorializes that Ford's taxes and tariffs to cut consumption would pump inflation throughout the economy.

At the same time, the "regressive effects of higher costs and lower energy use would deepen the recession and add to unemployment."

It's better, the magazine says, to develop new fuel sources and mandate conservation standards for all users.

The Federal Energy Administration would conserve natural gas and petroleum by prohibiting their use in power plants capable of burning coal. Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., has a bill to expand Amtrak service between large cities, such as Buffalo to Cleveland and Chicago, to get travelers out of cars and planes and into trains at a considerable saving in energy.

Sen. Charles H. Percy, R-Ill., comes up with his own "comprehensive alternative" economic package to the Ford plan.

Percy wants a rebateable, increase in gasoline taxes, a sort of bonus for new cars that are frugal on gasoline, plus hefty bonds on alcohol and tobacco taxes. Percy says the "villain" in the oil crisis is the automobile.

Sen. Percy opposes the set back to Ford's oil tariff, saying the time before its full implementation in April should be spent in deep study.

Sen. Adlai E. Stevenson, D-Ill., favors a "comprehensive package," his adies say. Stevenson's plan is to utilize "some new elements."

Cong. Paul Simon, the freshman Democrat from far Downstate, says a pox on Ford's tariff and Democratic calls for rationing. He promises to advance his own ideas soon.

"The import tax is based on the theory that if you increase costs enough, people will stop using the product," he says. "There is little truth to that."

"Though I recognize that the polls show public sentiment for rationing, I believe that public sentiment would turn quickly once we were in it."

Rep. George M. O'Brien, R-17th Dist., says the House has blocked Ford's tariff advanced a theoretical partnership between the White House and Congress in deciding energy policy, but the rationale was flawed.

Ford's plan although "imperfect" was "comprehensive," but the other partner, Congress, simply halted it without offering a "comparable substitute," O'Brien says.

Rep. Paul Findley, R-20th Dist., reached into his district mailbox for suggestions on energy and rationing — "clearly, one topic on which everyone has an idea."

Here are some: President Ford and many others using planes should cancel their flights; cut down on stock car races, boating and snowmobiles.

Students should not drive to high school every day; relax pollution standards for awhile; give senior citizens a gasoline discount.

Give farmers, car-driving salesmen and others who commute 15 miles to work a rebate; back Ford's tariff; slap on a gasoline tax instead of rationing; invoke mandatory allocation.

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD

Rep. John Erlenborn, R-14th Dist., says Ford's plan is imperfect and he questions whether there is even a "halfway perfect plan." But he does know that "we must reduce our use of oil." He adds: "The alternative is disaster."

Cast is selected for 'Butterflies Are Free'

The Masquers have chosen the cast and production crew for a spring production of "Butterflies Are Free," a play by Leonard Gershe.

Director Jim Swanick has announced that Robin Nunn of Granite City will portray Don Baker, a blind musician, and that Cheryl Pikoriatis of Collinsville will play the part of Jill Toner.

Maffea Zaganelli, also of Collinsville, will play Mrs. Baker, the blind boy's mother. Jim Fensterman of Alton will play Ralph Austin, a rival suitor.

Colleen Carpenter, Belleville, will assist Director Swanick as stage manager.

John Mefford, Granite City, has designed the set, which will be constructed under the management of Jay Frey, Collinsville.

Chuck Norris, Belleville, is in charge of the light design, and Mrs. Grace Condon, 31, St. Louis, a passenger in the Barnes' auto, was injured and was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital. X-rays were taken for pain to her back and she was released.

Linda Parish, Granite City, will handle the stage properties. Irene Kunemann of Collinsville will manage the box office.

"Butterflies Are Free" will be presented on April 5 and 6 at the BAC Miners' Theater in Collinsville.

No 'feathers' in pancakes

There will be no feathers in the pancakes, according to Chris Spahn, chairman of the Cahokia Lodge, Order of the Arrow, pancake breakfast scheduled Sunday March 19.

The Order of the Arrow is a scout honor camping society, whose ritual and founding are based on the Indian traditions of the Lenape tribe of the Delaware nation.

The young Arrow members will serve at St. Elizabeth cafeteria, 2200 Pontoon Road, between 7 a.m. and 1 p.m.

Tickets are $2 for adults and 75 cents for children under 12. Proceeds will be used to improve Camp Sunnen, located near Potosi, Mo., and operated year-around by the Cahokia Mound Boy Scout Council.

Tickets are available from any of the 250 local members of the organization, or by contacting the Boy Scout Service Center, 1338A Niedringhaus Ave.

ENGAGED. Miss Sheila Lynn Browning and Gordon Craig Caldwell, whose engagement is being announced by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gary Browning, Rural Route Two. A July wedding is planned.

Caldwell-Browning betrothal

Mr. and Mrs. Gary Browning, Rural Route Two, Granite City, announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Sheila Lynn Browning, to Gordon Craig Caldwell at a Valentine's Day dinner party given in their home.

Miss Browning will graduate from Granite City High School North in June.

Her fiancé is a 1974 graduate of North High School and resides in Granite City. Plans are being completed by the betrothed couple for a July wedding.

A buffet dinner was served by the hosts to the Robert Dietl.

Clark Lincoln, Milton Townsend and David Garner families and Rick Hensley, Donna Painter, Andy Baugh, Tammy Johnson, Mark Baugh, Cheryl Kinde, Kevin Byars, Bob Young, Mary Jane Strong, Roy Wodell, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Dillard and Preston Browning, of Staunton, a great-uncle of the bride-elect.

Mrs. Rapoff hosts Junior Bay View

"The Selling of a President" written by Joe McGinnis was reviewed by Mrs. Jean Beatty at a meeting of the Junior Bay View Reading Club.

Members met in the home of Mrs. Shirley Rapoff, 2535 Edison Ave., with the president, Mrs. Alice Hunsinger, in charge.

Roll call was answered with comments on spring fashions or with a literary quote. The hostess served a dessert course to the members and two guests, Mrs. Mildred Jungels and Mrs. Jackie Francis. Mrs. Sharon Loftus will host the March 12 meeting.

Flame retardant sleepwear

By MRS. CATHERINE MAUCK
Madison County
Advertiser—Home Economics

Since July 1973, by law, all children's sleepwear from sizes 0 to 6x must be flame retardant.

Different fibers, blends and flame retardant finishes used in sleepwear call for different types of laundry products. Therefore, it becomes extremely important to follow care label guides which suggest how to retain the flame retardant properties.

Flame retardant finishes are adversely affected by detergents formulated with carbonates and by soap.

These products react with minerals such as calcium and magnesium from water and soil to form an insoluble precipitate more commonly known as soap scum or calcium carbonate. This residue builds up on the garments and inactivates the flame retardant finish; they should not be used when laundering such items.

Wash flame retardant garments with a phosphate-based granular detergent or with a heavy-duty liquid laundry detergent. In areas where only low-phosphate products are available (8.7 per cent phosphorus or less), it is necessary to increase the amount of detergent.

In most instances, the label on the package will indicate the phosphorus content of the product.

If phosphate-based granular detergents are unavailable in your area, use a heavy-duty liquid laundry detergent.

Other precautions in the use of laundry aids may also be specified.

Here are some examples of label instructions for various fibers used in flame retardant garments:

100 per cent polyester — machine wash in warm water; tumble dry; to retain FR (flame retardant) properties, do not use soap, bleach or other non-phosphate detergent. Do not send to commercial laundry.

100 per cent modacrylic — machine wash in warm water; tumble dry; do not iron.

100 per cent cotton — machine wash in warm water; tumble dry.

To maintain FR properties, use double the recommended amount of concentrated low-suds phosphate detergent powder or a non-phosphate heavy-duty liquid detergent. Do not use soap, bleach or other non-phosphate detergents. Do not launder in hard water.

Machine laundry only. 80 per cent rayon-20 per cent nylon — machine wash warm; tumble dry. Do not use bleaches, softeners.

Alpha Eta Chapter hears panel

Dr. Ruth Richardson, Dr. Roy Steinbrook and Dr. Brooks Holder of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville discussed "Opportunities Today for Women Educators" at a meeting of Alpha Eta Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma Society.

The panel program was arranged by Mrs. Kathleen Kalchoff of Granite City, professional affairs chairman. The chapter met at the Granite City Army Installation last week for a Polynesian buffet and business session, conducted by Mrs. Agnes Fryntko of Granite City, president.

Louise Sheary of Edwardsville collected eye glasses, frames and lenses, which were donated by members for the "new eyes for the needy" project.

"The Hawaiian Holo Holo in Hula Time," a series of Hawaiian dances, was presented by Mrs. Sara Carpenter of SIUE, assisted by her two daughters.

Hostesses for the meeting were Ruth Toomey and Alberta Braden, both of Wood River.

Also attending from Granite City were Lucinda Huck, Elsie Maylath, Dorothy Mitchell, Selma Nelson, Lucy Parrish, Hazel Towery and Mary Turner.

Valentine party at Art Hoff home

Those winning prizes during the evening were Mr. and Mrs. Leo Willis, Mrs. Juanita Rosenberg, Mrs. Mary Lou Clausen, Walter Talley and Austin Witter.

Also present were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Schmidt, Mrs. Eugene Witter, Mrs. and Mrs. Wade Rollins, Mr. and Mrs. Von Dee Cruse, Jerry Rosenberg, Mrs. Nell Talley, Robert Clausen and children, David and Jane, Mrs. Lorraine Melville, Mrs. Edith Ryan, Miss Carolyn Godin and the hosts' daughter, Miss Beth Hoff.

Rotary Anns and husbands will see play

Rotary Anns here will observe "husbands' night" Saturday, March 8, by attending a play, "The Bad Man," starring John Auble, on the Goldenrod Showboat. Mrs. Judy Dew is chairman of the committee making the arrangements.

The February meeting of the Granite City Rotary Anns was held at Illinois Power Co. Mrs. Jo Meyer, consumer information representative for Illinois Power, demonstrated the cooking of various foods in a microwave oven.

Hostesses for the evening were Mesdames Margaret Smith, chairman, and Maxine Jackson, Evelyn Ackerman, Jackie Harding and Judy Rudolph. They used a valentine theme in decorations and favors.

Prizes were won by Mesdames Marie Dotzauer and Gail Miller.

Other members attending were Mesdames Lois Winter, president, and Linda Bristol, Lorraine Decatur, Anita Eltimoff, Lois Hassler, Clara Huber, Dorothy Kerch, Millie Meek, Peggy Milton and JoAnn Terrell.

Fish fry Friday

The Adoration Society of the Sacred Heart Polish National Catholic Church, 930 Reynolds St., Madison, will hold a fish fry Friday in the parish hall from 4 p.m. until 7 p.m.

Fish plates will feature fish, macaroni and cheese, cole slaw, dessert and coffee.

The cost of the dinner is $1.50, carry-outs are available and the public is invited, according to Mrs. Helen Gaddy, chairman of the event.

Webster PTA notes Founder's Day

Webster School PTA observed "Founders' Day" by honoring all past PTA presidents and viewing a play, entitled "Why The Sea Is Salt," presented by the fifth grade students under the direction of William Brooks.

Taken from an old Norwegian folk tale, the play was performed by Kim McVey, Jim Ponder, Mike Hicks, Maurice Gray, Bridget Fry, Mindy Parson, Frank Schwerzman, Glenn Bennett, Kathy Miller, Bill Childers, Don Dermott, Marjorie Ballard, Ron Mousette, Sherry Ferryman, Loretta Parks, Rod Harris, Joe McGinnis, Vince Hutchinson, Ricky Taylor and Rhonda Starks.

Mrs. Vera Farrell, past president of the Granite City Area Council of PTAs and a past president of Nameki School PTA, gave a short talk on "Founders' Day."

She introduced past officers and presented a carnation to each as his or her year of service was announced.

Principal Clyde Lee, who serves as Webster PTA president, opened the meeting. The flag ceremony was led by Den 2 of Cub Pack 20.

Lee announced the Area PTA Council's awards banquet will be held at South High School on Thursday and a candy sale in March with Mrs. Kathy Gowan serving as chairman.

GC boy, 12, helps Variety Club drive

The Variety Club's telephone for Forgotten Children was aided this week by David Davis, 12, a Prather Junior High School student, who collected $27.72 from families living in his neighborhood.

A son of Mr. and Mrs. William Davis, 2907 Logan Ave., the boy was helped in earlier fund raising drives and is an accredited "ambassador" for the Variety Club's annual campaign.

Unlike previous years, however, this time David was not accompanied in his door-to-door quest by his older brother, Darrell.

Darrell, 15, is recuperating at St. Elizabeth Hospital, where recently he underwent major surgery, Mrs. Davis said.

'Talking books' available at Granite City Library

By JEANETTE KAMPEN for Granite City Public Library

A program sponsored by the Library of Congress has made Talking Books available free to the visually and physically handicapped through the local libraries in this area, including Granite City Public Library and the Lewis and Clark Library System.

Books of all kinds and magazines can be obtained either on records or cassette tapes by those who qualify.

Record and cassette players also are provided without charge.

In addition to blind and partially sighted people, those who have handicaps that make holding a book or turning pages difficult also qualify for this service.

Interested persons should contact GCPL or the Lewis and Clark Library System (656-3216).

Fans of author Howard P. Lovecraft (1890-1937) will enjoy reading "Lovecraft: A Biography," by L. Sprague de Camp.

Lovecraft, an unusual, contradictory writer of horror-fantasy stories, achieved fame only after his death and is now hailed as the equal of Poe.

For present and would-be investors in the stockmarket, GCPL is now receiving the weekly issues of "Moody's Stock Survey" and Standard & Poor's "The Outlook."

"Chilton's Auto Repair Manual 1975," for American cars from 1968 to 1975, is now available at GCPL and may be checked out upon payment of a $3 deposit.

Motor fuel tax funds allotted

Illinois municipalities have been allotted $8,648,662 as their share of motor fuel tax paid into the state treasury during January, according to the Illinois Department of Transportation.

Motor fuel tax funds are allocated monthly to the various municipalities in Illinois for their streets and highways. The monies allocated are computed on the basis of population.

The allotment to Granite City was $36,534. Madison received $6,323 and Venice was allocated $4,202.

The DOT also announced distribution of $3,306,460 to downstate counties, with Cook County receiving $5,047,129 in motor fuel tax funds.

Madison County's allotment was $125,872.

Distribution of motor fuel tax funds to Illinois townships and road districts totaled $3,021,196, with $36,941 going to townships of Madison County.

POLKA MASS will be presented at St. Peter and Paul Church, Altan, at an 11 a.m. Eucharistic celebration Sunday by the Plavi Dunav Tamburitza. The group includes Paul Goldschid, Granite City, kneeling in front, on the bench. Others, from left, are Ray Slapak, accordion; John Polovich, on the baglama; and Glenn Polovich, bass fiddle. The hymns will be sacred words conforming to the various parts of the mass, and the melodies will be those of polkas and waltzes.

Aid to families shows increase

Although the Illinois Department of Public Aid was able to trim by 2 per cent the number of families with dependent children which were receiving aid, the cost of the program increased by nearly 10 per cent during the 12-month period ending in September.

The U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare has just released figures for the Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC) program, the federal government's largest cash assistance welfare program.

A HEW spokesman told the Press-Record the 9.7 per cent payment increase Illinois reported for September, 1974 over September 1973 is probably a cost-of-living adjustment.

He said many states are liberalizing AFDC programs, a fact evident from the HEW table showing substantial increases for practically all states.

Illinois reported a 1.9 per cent drop for the year in the number of AFDC recipients while a majority of states showed increases, some in double-digit figures.

The Illinois report to HEW for September 1974 showed 206,176 families on the AFDC roll. The families totaled 755,747 individuals, including 549,089 children. Recipients had dropped 4 per cent from August, the month before.

Illinois made AFDC payments totaling $53,707, or $260.49 per family and $71.07 per recipient last September. This was a 3.3 per cent drop from August.

The national average payment for the AFDC reporting period was $209.56 per family and $69.54 per recipient.

Illinois had the third largest AFDC roll, topped by California's 413,061 families and New York's 337,008.

Just behind Illinois was Michigan at 189,305 families. Illinois was seventh in average payments. Massachusetts was well ahead at $362.14 per family and $109.49 per recipient.

New York followed with $309.94 and $89.39. California was down the list at $233.17 and $73.46.

Illinois was third in total payments, followed by Michigan at $51 million. New York and California led with $104 million and $96 million.

All states have been on notice since Jan. 4, 1974, to reduce AFDC payment errors that were adding $1.17 billion a year to welfare costs.

HEW adopted regulations giving the states 18 months to reduce the error rate to no more than 1 per cent on ineligible families and 5 per cent on overpayments.

HEW Secretary Casper W. Weinberger said that if a state failed to meet its target for any of three reporting periods, it would lose a proportionate share of federal funds for that period.

Illinois stood to risk loss of matching AFDC funds under the HEW regulation because it had an error rate of 11.7 per cent in payments to ineligible families and an overpayment rate of 37.6 per cent, second highest in the nation.

A HEW spokesman said it is not clear from the latest AFDC report whether Illinois is making progress toward the goal of acceptable error rates.

He said HEW hopes to have the progress reports from all states ready for publication about April 1.

State Farm honors 4 local agents

Four Granite City men were honored with membership in the Millionaire Club of the State Farm Life Insurance Co. It was announced today by the Bloomington (Ill.) office.

Those accepted in the company's top honor society were Gerald Thebeau, 2126 Pontoon Road, Harry and Tom Thebeau, 2334 Madison Ave. and Mike Foundas, 1911 Pontoon Road.

Each of the insurance representatives produced over $1,000,000 of new life insurance in 1974 to earn membership in the group and join the top 15 per cent of all State Farm agents.

Europeans urge greater soybean production here

Five Europeans came to Illinois and other soybean-growing areas of the United States in mid-February to urge American farmers to increase their soybean production — and at a "reasonable" price.

The delegation represented the Federation of European Oilseed Processors.

Under arrangements by the American Soybean Association, the group visited U. S. Agriculture Department officials in Washington and talked with growers in meetings at Atlanta, Ga., Memphis, Tenn., Des Moines, Ia., Indianapolis, Ind., Columbus, Ohio, and Decatur, Ill.

In the Decatur meeting, sponsored by the Land of Lincoln Soybean Association, Volker Von Der Beck of a Hamburg, German processing firm, said:

"Within the last two years, we've had shortages and price increases and so we're worried about the raw material situation. We think American farmers can grow soybeans at a reasonable price and that they are able to stay in the competition against the Brazilian farmers."

"We are going back to Europe with a good feeling about the situation here, but we have to tell the American farmer that we hope soybean prices will not increase too much, for this will hurt consumption."

"Our livestock industry is geared for increase and we rely on a cheap supply of high protein feed. Higher prices or decreased production will hurt our industry."

The group indicated it prefers to process soybeans but advised that it does have the capability of switching to sunflower seed, rapeseed, peanuts or Brazilian soybeans.

William D. Tiberend, executive secretary of the Land of Lincoln Soybean Association, said the European community market is an important one for U. S. soybean producers.

In 1973, the European community purchased 225 million bushels of soybeans and also soybean meal and oil in a volume equivalent to an additional 146 million bushels — or a total of 369 million bushels.

Vandalism at Lybarger

Vandals caused extensive damage to Lybarger Material Co., Inc., at 19th and Adams streets, it was reported Monday.

Several boards were removed from a wall of a building and a hole was cut in the roof. The conveyor belt system was damaged and the windshield of a truck on the lot was broken.

Two padlocks were broken from the gasoline pump and another padlock was broken from the boiler room door.

Police noticed footprints from small tennis shoes in the mud near the conveyor and several empty beer cans around the area.

BURGLARIZE RESTAURANT

A television and an undetermined amount of change were stolen from Rodrick's Restaurant, East 24th Street and Nameoki Road, it was reported this week. Wood paneling was torn from the back door to gain entry. The money was stolen from a cigarette vending machine which was forced open.

Laclede Steel oil, gas exploration linked to its iron pellet plant hopes

Paul B. Akin, president of Laclede Steel Co. announced Monday that Laclede Steel has signed agreements with the Texas Pacific Oil Co., Inc., to conduct a limited oil and gas exploration program in Southern Illinois.

He said the initial step in the program will be to drill a well to a depth of approximately 13,000 feet. The agreements provide options for participation in future wells.

Laclede Steel operates steel plants in Alton and Madison. Akin noted that since oil and gas exploration is "quite different from steel production," Laclede Steel has retained "a qualified independent technical and legal assistance to help evaluate and negotiate the agreements."

Akin expressed his pleasure with the agreements and with the opportunity to work with Texas Pacific on the project. Texas Pacific Oil Co., Inc. is a wholly-owned subsidiary of The Seagram Co., Ltd.

Pres. Akin commented, "Laclede's primary interest is the discovery of a supply of natural gas for its own use."

"Although our fuel suppliers have done an excellent job in meeting our present needs, and have assured us that they will be able to continue to do so in the foreseeable future, they cannot assure us of the additional natural gas we would need if we were to construct an iron ore reduction plant."

"Such a facility, which converts iron oxide pellets into a suitable product to replace scrap for charging into our electric arc furnaces, requires a good supply of natural gas.

"Obviously, a natural gas discovery in Illinois would be very helpful, but not mandatory, for the successful operation of such a unit."

"As I mentioned in my remarks to the St. Louis Society of Financial Analysts in November, Laclede Steel is anxious to secure a source of raw material that would free us from the effects of steel scrap price fluctuations."

In conclusion, Akin said Laclede Steel's share of the program would cost about $1,000,000 in 1975. He emphasized that "the program is speculative and that Laclede has absolutely no assurance that we will find either oil or natural gas."

Railroad gates malfunction

Motorists told Granite City police at 12:05 p.m. Monday that the railroad warning device at the West Pontoon Road crossing was malfunctioning and that the lights, bells and crossing gates had not operated until after a train had passed the crossing.

The West Pontoon Road crossing has been the topic of considerable debate recently as the gates have malfunctioned several times, blocking traffic.

The crossing also has been the scene of several car-train accidents as motorists attempted to drive around the gates when they were down for long periods. Two fatalities also have occurred there.

Yesterday's report was the first of the gates not lowering for a train. Most complaints are of the gates remaining down when no trains are in sight.

Police reported they also have notified the Illinois Terminal Railroad several times that the crossing warning lights on Route 3 just south of A. O. Smith Corp., have been flashing continuously for three days.

Store burglarized

Three new television sets, worth a total of about $1,390, were stolen during a burglary at Franklin Union Furniture Co., 19th Street and Delmar Avenue, it was reported Monday.

A rear overhead door to the loading dock was pried open to gain entry. Police noted that radios, televisions and other small items were left in the store and only the three television sets were stolen.

TELEVISION THEFT

Thieves entered the residence of Diane Miller, 4007 Kirkpatrick Homes through a broken window and stole a black and white 23-inch television valued at $175, six tapes worth $50 and an AM-PM radio and tape player with a value of $250. It was reported during the weekend.
